OUR LITTLE TOWN

We like to live in a little town,

Where the trees meet across the street;

Where you wave your hand and say "Hello"

To everyone you meet.

We like to stand for a moment

Outside the grocery store,

And listen to the friendly gossip

Of the folks that live next door.

For life is interwoven

With the friends we learn to know,

And we hear their joys and sorrows

As we daily come and go.

So we like to live in a little town,

And care no more to roam;

For every house in a little town

Is more than a house — it's home.

BLUFFS BOOSTER DAY JUNE 13 AT CARDINAL BALLPARK

Sunday, July 13th dawned bright and sun-shiny, and nearly 300 citizens of Bluffs trekked to St. Louis to attend BLUFFS BOOSTER DAY" at the Cardinal ballpark. Although the Pittsburg Pirates defeated the Cardinals 8-4, the Bluffs fans had an outstanding day, as Mayor John Allen pitched the first three balls in a pre-game ceremony, to "Miss Centennial" Nancy Whorton, while Ray Schnitker, President of the Bluffs Civic Club and Manager of Bluffs Farmers Grain, served as catcher. A brief resume of Bluffs was flashed on the lighted recognition board, as Jack Buck, Cardinal announcer, read the script. and Bluffs was mentioned several times over the radio to thousands of listeners at different times during the afternoon. It was indeed, a day to long remember.

1871 BLUFFS, ILLINOIS 1971

How does one begin to write a complete history of Bluffs with so many unknowns? Undoubtedly, many of the events prior to 1871 would be of significant interest to the history of Bluffs.

Where there are now no Indians whatsoever, there once were Indians without number, game without limit, timber so dense sunlight barely filtered through. It is not known precisely how long ago the red man first came to this area, but the first record of man, comes with an ancient and unknown people who came to be known as the "Mound Builders" for great earth works of various kinds were constructed with intelligence and and by the combined labor of a very large number of persons in this vicinity.

The next recognized tenants were called "Illinois Indians" which was a confederacy composed of five separate tribes called the Kaskaskias, Cahokias, Tamaroas, Peorias and Mitchigamies, and they ranged from north to south in this country, although it was never proved that they located a permanent type village in this area.

The Kickapoos, who were sometimes called Prairie Indians, finally occupied this portion of the State, and were the last Indians in possession of Scott County. These were the Indians with whom the first settlers here had to contend with, and at whose bloody hands they suffered many outrages. They had an implacable hatred of the Americans, which they retained after they had been compelled to cede their hunting grounds to the hated race. When they were removed from Scott County and Illinois they retained their animosity to such a degree that they -- or at least a portion of them -- went to Mexico to get out of the jurisdiction of the United States. Many artifacts concerning the Indian way of life have been found by souvenir hunters during the past years.

While the Indians were the actual occupants of Scott county, yet France claimed it and asserted sovereignty over it from June 14, 1671 to the time she yielded her claim to Great Britain by the Treaty of Paris, February 16, 1763. The English occupation of Illinois country continued from 1763 until General George Rogers Clark, with his brave little army of colonial forces took forcible possession of it in 1778, acting under a commission from Virginia, who then asserted claim to it and Scott County. On Dec. 23, 1783 the General Assembly of Virginia ceded this land to the general government, who in turn designated it as the State of Illinois on Feb. 3, 1809.

Various counties were then named by the existing governor and Scott County was, at times, a part of Madison County, Greene county, Morgan county, and finally on February 16, 1839 we came into our own, and became officially Scott County.

For about the next thirty or so years, settlers began to enter Scott county, seeking a place to make their homes. Many tales have been told regarding old-time families who stayed and helped make our end of the county what it is to date, with decedents still living here.

John Piper, a far-seeing type settler, first entered a plat of land at the county seat on August 10, 1829, intending to build a town. This town was named "Deerfield" and has since disappeared from the tax books. It was laid out by John Piper and James B. Currey, and contained 150 lots, 75 feet wide and 150 feet long. Numerous streets and alleys and a public square. Elk street and Buck street, running the long way of the town, were each 100 feet wide. Other streets were 66 feet wide. It was located on land lying immediately north and northwest of the present village of Bluffs, and possibly may cover a portion of the same land. It was out of existence long before the village of Bluffs was thought of, and the latter is not in any sense the successor, or outgrowth of the former.

Bluffs, which in the plat was named "Bluff City," was laid out by Henry Oakes. It was surveyed and the plat was made by W. W. Chapman, deputy county surveyor, June 24, 1871. This plat and the accompanying deed dedicating the streets to the public for highways, and the surveyor's explanation, were recorded on page 188, 189 and 190 of Book R of Deeds in Scott County, July 13, 1871. Sometime later, we can not state when, the name of the place became Bluffs, by which name it appears in the official Postal Guide. The name had been changed before January 10, 1884, on which day the first addition was made thereto, by the name of Bluffs.

The original plat of Bluffs, Illinois, contains sixty-eight numbered lots and two lots designated, respectively as A and B. These lots are fifty feet wide and one hundred and fifty feet long, except Lots 33, 34, 35, 36 and A and B, which are irregular in shape and of different sizes. This original plat is situated on the West half of the Northwest Quarter of Section fifteen in Township Fifteen Range Thirteen, which was entered by John Piper, August 10, 1829.

The first addition to Bluffs was made by Charles Oakes, January 10, 1884. It was surveyed and platted by C. B. Lewis, surveyor and civil engineer. It is situated adjacent to and on the East side of the original town, and contains sixty-one numbered lots, and two lots not numbered. One of these was marked "D. Richards," and was the ground on which the Richards Hotel stood. The other lies immediately South of it and is marked "Meehan's lot" on the plat. Full lots are the same size of the lots in the original town. Lots 12, 13, 14, 27, 28, 32, 56, 57 and the two unnumbered lots are irregular in shape and of odd sizes. The record of this addition can be found on page twenty-four of Miscellaneous Records A.

The second addition to Bluffs was made by Charles Oakes Nov. 12, 1889. The surveying and platting were done by the same C. B. Lewis who did the first addition. It contains thirty-six lots, each fifty feet wide and one hundred and fifty feet long. There is nothing about the plat or the surveyor's explanation, from which anyone can tell where this addition is situated. The plat is recorded on page 130 of Miscellaneous Record A.

Founder of Bluffs

HENRY OAKES, SR.

September 3, 1848 - December 30, 1920

EMELINE RICHARDSON OAKES

November 14, 1848 - October 26, 1886

Henry Oakes, Sr. was born September 3, 1848 on a farm situated where Bluffs now stands, the son of Henry and Mary (Green) Oakes. His father was born in Scioto county, Ohio, Sept. 3, 1817, and early in life came west and settled in the present Bluffs neighborhood and there married Miss Mary Green. She was a native of England and was born March 14, 1826. They were the parents of six children, of which Bluffs' founder, Henry Oakes, Sr., was the third child.

Our founder was educated in the neighborhood where he was born and raised, and on Sept. 28, 1870, was married to Miss Emeline Richardson, who lived at the Point near Jacksonville. To this union three children were born: Henry Oakes, Jr. (Oct. 15, 1873), Estella Castle (Jan. 10, 1876), and Royal Oakes (Oct. 24, 1881). Mrs. Oakes passed away Oct. 26, 1886. Mr. Oakes was married to Miss Mary E. Thompson Dec. 28, 1887, and to this union was born - Emeline (Oct. 11, 1889) and Helen (Nov. 20, 1899).

In the spring of 1871 Mr. Oakes laid out the town of Bluffs, and later platted an addition to the original tract. In 1881, in company with his brother, Charles Oakes, he embarked in the grain business, under the firm name of H. & C. Oakes. They had their principal office in Bluffs, and a branch office at Riggston, Illinois. Aside from his interests in the grain business, he was a farmer and stock feeder.

Mr. Oakes was highly respected as one of Bluffs' leading citizens and a true Democrat, and was noted as being depended upon at all times to stand manfully by the town of his creation. He had faith in the future of the town at the time he set apart the twenty acres of his farm for town purposes, and its growth and development has fully justified that faith.

The third addition to Bluffs was also made by C. Oakes. It was surveyed and plat made by James M. Brown, county surveyor of Scott County, on March 23, 1892. This addition contains 56 lots and is situated on a part of the East half of the North-west quarter of said Section 15, immediately South of and adjacent to the second addition. These lots are 50 feet wide and 150 feet long, except lots 8, 9, 19, 20, 40, 41 and 45, which are not rectangular and are various sizes. The fact the Norfolk & Western Railroad runs diagonally through Bluffs and the first and third additions thereto accounts for the fact that some of the lots are not regular in shape and size.

Although Bluffs is the second town in population and in volume of business in Scott County, nevertheless, it enjoys the distinction of being the youngest in years. The first town laid out in Scott County was Exeter (June 18, 1825), with the following towns and dates thereafter:

Columbus - July 12, 1825	Williamsport - Aug. 1, 1825
Naples - Aug. 8, 1825	Winchester - March 19, 1830
Manchester - Nov. 1, 1831	Geneva - Feb. 11, 1832
Morgantown - July 27, 1835	Bridgeport - Apr. 2, 1836
Glasgow - June 22, 1836	Jefferson - Aug. 2, 1836
Bloomfield - Sept. 14, 1836	Oxville - Mar. 25, 1837
Deerfield - May 6, 1837	City of Brussels - July 15, 1837
New Albany - Apr. 2, 1838	Merritt - Mar. 22, 1870
Alsey - Sept. 1870	Riggston - Feb. 2, 1871
Bluffs - June 24, 1871

Bluffs may be the youngest town in Scott county, but its history furnishes unquestioned evidence of business enterprise and determination on the part of those citizens who helped to build it up and make it the second town and the hub of things in the Northwest part of the county. Henry Oakes, proprietor of the original town and Charles Oakes, proprietor of the three additions thereto, are sons of Henry Oakes, Sr., who lived a long time and died where his son Henry lived. The 80 acres of land on which the original homestead stood was entered in two parcels. Cephas Simmons entered the North forty of it Jan. 6, 1836, and Stanton Merris entered the South forty July 7, 1836.

Other early settlers deserve recognition with its early history. Among these was David VanGundy, father of 'Squire Adam VanGundy and progenitor of the VanGundy family. He entered 80 acres on Sept. 10, 1831, and on this site he built a home and a mill, which was a useful thing in those days. It was propelled by water furnished by the stream which comes down from Neeleyville - one branch of Wolf Run Creek. Across this stream, quite a distance above the mill, a dam was constructed which collected the water and preserved a supply to furnish the motive power for the mill.

Benjamin Green, on May 27, 1833, entered 80 acres of land. Here Mr. Green lived and prospered many years and reared a family. He was the father of the late John W. Green and grandfather of William H. Green, Benjamin Green, Harvey Green and grandfather of Henry and Charles Oakes.

On May 24, 1831, Jacob Bradbury entered the 80 acres on which Stonewall Sawyers and his father, Jackson Sawyers resided for about 50 years.

On May 26, 1840, John Atchinson Jr., entered 80 acres on which the late Judge John Green long lived and upon which he ended his days.

There was also land entered by Daniel M. Piper, Nancy M. Heath, James B. Curry, Jesse McKee, Debora Bloyd and Samuel L. Osborn in the early 1800's.

Bluffs was organized as a town, Dec. 17, 1883. The first board of officers elected was Adam VanGundy, president; James Linkins, clerk; Charles Oakes, John H. Pieper, J. E. Arundel, W. G. Pine and W. C. Carver, trustees; Henry Oakes, treasurer.

April 15, 1884, the election of officers resulted in the choice of Charles Oakes, president; James Linkins, clerk; J. H. Pieper, Daniel Finley, Jas. N. Shore, J. H. Carver, A. Brady, trustees.

1891 - President, John Meehan; trustees, Wesley Sullens, E. A. Cleveland, John Northcutt, Wm. H. Garrison, J. E. Arundel, Pat Quinlan; clerk D. E. Little.

1892 - President, S. F. Shore; trustees, John Northcutt, J. W. Sullens, Geo. Thom, James Hale, A. F. Masterson, H. H. Crews; clerk, S. W. Rodgers.

1893 - President, Chas. F. Tonn; trustees, Alfred Bloyd, J. N. Shore, Geo. Thom, Chas. Bloyd, A. Masterson, Wm. Fuss; clerk, Wm. McCullum.

1894 - President, Henry Oakes; trustees, A. Bloyd, Chas. Bloyd, Wm. Fuss, Wm. H. Green, Monroe Taylor, J. N. Shore; clerk, Wm. Griggs. License granted to three saloons, pool rooms, etc.

On Nov. 13, 1883, an election was held in Bluffs to pass on the question of incorporating under the general law, election resulting in 56 votes on the question - 46 for and 10 against. The result of this election was sanctioned by, and went through all the necessary forms of law before County Judge James Callans, on Nov. 15, 1883, but was never spread on the books of record of the village of Bluffs until July 1894, when Wm. Griggs was clerk. Why this was never done until Griggs' administration as village clerk was never known.

1895 - President, D. E. Little; trustees, Wm. Fuss, Wm. Green, Monroe Taylor, H. H. Crews, Henry Knoepfel, Wm. B. Smith; clerk, Wm. Griggs. This administration marked the era of "battle royal" against boot-leggers, which continued for some time.

1896 - President, Chas. Oakes; trustees, H. H. Crews, Henry Knoepfel, Wm. B. Smith, J. C. Lewis, John M. Davis, Wm. Griggs; clerk, Chas. R. Hale. Under this administration no liquors were sold except under druggist's permit, but a club room was incorporated and did a thriving

CONGRATULATIONS

100th anniversary

You were 41 years old when CIPS began providing electric service here. That was in 1912. The Boston Red Sox took the pennant and the world series, China became a republic and the Titanic sank, after colliding with an iceberg. William Howard Taft was president, Charles S. Deneen was Governor of Illinois and Worth won the Kentucky Derby in the 38th run for the roses.

In 1912, the average annual use of electric service by a Bluffs home was 179 kilowatt hours. Today, the average is more than 35 times as much.

While the use of electricity in Bluffs continues to increase year after year, the unit cost has been going down. In fact, the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity today is lower than ever.

To meet the growing requirement for electric service...now and in the future...we at CIPS are constantly planning ahead so that ample power will always be available to the homes, businesses and industries in Bluffs and the other communities we serve.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

ing business until it was conclusively proven that it was nothing more nor less than a saloon - on a "sly or dark order" and it was closed by the board of trustees.

1897 - President, Chas. Oakes; trustees; J. C. Lewis, John Davis, James Campbell, D. E. Little, Wm. Griggs, Wm. Smith; clerk, Chas. Hale. The subject of electric lights was agitated, but "we are still in the dark".

1898 - this was a straight license and anti-license fight. President, John Knoepfel; trustees, D. E. Little, James Campbell, Wm. Smith, Wm. McCullum, Jas. Wolford, H. D. Kilpatrick; clerk, Chas. Hale; police magistrate, F. C. Shore. Under this administration the board levied a tax of $1600, a little over half of which was used for laying sewer pipe and drain tile. This was the beginning of a period of improvement in Bluffs. That year the town was drained and several blocks of gravel street put in where always before it had been mud holes and pools of stagnant water, but are now dry and hard roads. A franchise was granted to the Central Union Telephone Co. to operate its line in Bluffs on May 1st of this year.

W. H. Green was new postmaster for the Village.

1899 - President, Chas. Tonn; trustees, H. D. Kilpatrick, Jas. Wolford, Wm. McCullum, J. E. Arundel, A. W. Baird, Wm. Smith; clerk, Geo. Thorn. A new bridge was built over Wolf Run and several blocks more of gravel streets put in. During this administration, curses were heaped upon the heads of the board for passing, and enforcing a long needed dog law, and did succeed in ridding the town of a pack of worthless curs that had always made life a burden both day and night for the whole population. The new "Citizens Ticket" had a stormy year. Sherman Edwards was appointed as city marshal. He was sworn in on Wednesday and on the following Friday he was a fugitive from justice with a band of the better class of citizens after him in hot pursuit. It had developed he was the head of a gang of thieves and burglars, who had been committing depredations in Bluffs and vicinity for several months.

At the beginning of the 1900's the following business houses were in operation:

Tom was born at Valley City, Pike county, Illinois, August 4, 1861. He was educated there, and for twenty-two years that little village was his home. During the years of his residence in Pike County, he was a farmer, but in 1883, April, he left the farm and came to Bluffs, where he made his home till his death. He first entered the general merchandising and real estate business, and became the proprietor of the Wabash railroad eating house.

Engineer I. B. Bridgman and Fireman Ed Mueller had a narrow escape when their engine jumped the Wabash tracks and plunged off the trestle on the east end of the Valley City bridge in November, 1918. They were backing across the bridge into Bluffs, when the engine lurched and left the track and plunged over the trestle onto the ground below. Bridgman succeeded in jumping and landed between the ties on the bridge, but Mueller was unable to get off so went over with the wreck and landed some 15 to 20 feet below. He crawled out of the wreckage (shown above) and was not seriously injured; back was badly scalded from escaping steam, but otherwise was shaken up. The Wabash had been having a series of wrecks of late, and this was the fourth to occur within a week or so.

The Distinguished Service Cross was presented to Roy Beird in April, 1919, by General Pershing in Coblenz, while Roy was still serving in the U. S. Marines. The local Bluffs High School also became accredited at this time.

Bluffs was hit by heavy rain and wind storm during June of this year, and many homes and farms received severe damage.

A Gigantic Homecoming was held by the town citizens for their returning soldiers, sailors and marines, home from WWI. A big tent was erected, dining tables were placed in them; a string of kettles were filled to the brim and bubbling with burgoo soup, in charge of Monroe Taylor and B. W. Frohwitter. The fish were fried by Jersey Moon of Meredosia, where they grow fish and ladies by the score were the able assistants.

The Bluffs band, which was a new organization, furnished the music and at 12 o'clock noon a call was given for the soldier boys who were home from the war, to appear and partake of the feast. About fifty were there to be honored, and enjoyed complimentary cigars after the bountiful dinner.

A large program was held that afternoon, with Lt. Ewert telling a few of the things our boys did "over there" and also of some of the hardships they were compelled to undergo.

The feature of the big day was the pageant, which was led by Uncle Sam and Columbia, on two little ponies, followed by a float all in black, representing the beginning of war with one of "our boys" standing between home and war or between love and duty.

The music accompanying this float was "The Star Spangled Banner". Many floats followed, representing "Farewell Mother", "Over There", "Tenting Tonight", "Keep the Home Fires Burning", "Rose of No Man's Land", "The Long, Long Trail" and "Ring Out Glad Bells of Exeter". Our local band played "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" with eight little flower girls strewing flowers along the street, attended by two Spanish American war veterans, John Adkins and Frank Stanton.

Following the floats came the wagon carrying Civil war veterans. Only four was there to answer roll call when the parade started, namely Clayton Batley, James Branson, Wm. Wildy and George Peak. The last in line of parade was "our" soldier boys, led by Capt. Savoie of Naples and Lt. Day of Exeter, and all were proud of them. There were about 80 in line, including a sprinkling of sailors and marines, and all in uniform, and it was a sight that will long be remembered.

That evening a grand ball was given in Lewis' opera house, and this drew the young folks and the floor was so crowded there was scarcely room for the dancers. A feature of the dance was the solo dancing by Miss LaVerne Ward, daughter of Conductor and Mrs. Charles Ward of Bluffs.

The next day more fresh soup was served, the picture house did a booming business, and another parade was held by the band and school, arranged by teachers Misses Pfenniger, Rockwood, Merris, Fuson, Chamberlain and Vannier.

During the program held, G. C. Rockwood of Springfield, a former Bluffs boy, made a very interesting talk on "The Ideals of American Citizenship" and his address was quite a surprise to many of his old home friends, as he had established himself quite a reputation as an orator during the Liberty Loan campaigns, and his address on this occasion was splendid and appreciated by his many friends here.

Green Owned A 'Put Put' Car

J. R. Green, for years the only one in Bluffs who could make a balky chuck wagon go "put put", is pictured in one of the trail blazing Fords. It was a two cylinder and had to be cranked from the side. It would start, run and stop, and was equipped with pneumatic tires. Mr. Green had a work shop in the background and it was located where the Conoco Station stood north of Wolf Run Creek. His hobby was to teach new purchasers of these wild cars, how to drive, but keeping the early cars running was more important than driving them, and he had quite a reputation for being the "in" mechanic of the day.

The late Harry Oakes was the first owner of a car in Bluffs or Scott County and when he went on dates or took his girl for a ride in his one-seated, single-cylinder car, he often took Mr. Green along to drive.

Other early owners of cars were in order: Royal Oakes, Dr. C. A. Evans, John Whisman.

Although the C.I.P.S. Company denied reports of the building of a new generating plant at Meredosia, the village was resounding with rumors to the contrary. The company was clearing about 80 acres of land recently purchased and much activity was occurring.

Ruby Siebenmann, James Lemons and Florence Bullo were new teachers hired for the school year in the unit.

Bluffs has gone modern in the last few years. Water and sewer service, something impossible except for PWA and WPA, has outmoded the Saturday night washtub (spit-bath) and two more business establishments have followed the residence trend which was fast eliminating the unsightly privy. Harry Chambers, local plumber, installed rest rooms in the Bank and in the Evans Tavern at this time; the sale of automatic heating units in Bluffs had already

The most devastating "Flash Flood" in the history of Bluffs hit this area early Monday morning, March 16th, and damage estimated at thousands of dollars resulted when Wolf Run creek left its banks, flooded homes, washed out the Wabash tracks, broke levees and covered the yards and streets with mud and debris. Without warning and catching most of the populace in bed, the flood water started down the railroad track in the east part of town to a depth of 18" and gathered current as it swept through basements and even homes, on its way to lower ground west of the Round House.

Sand and mud silt from the creek and nearby hills covered the town to a depth of a foot or more in places. Soil from the freshly plowed gardens was picked up by the swift current and carried to the yard next door or sped on into old Dickerson lake. State highway snow plows were busy all day plowing the mud, logs and debris from the concrete road slab. The rain fall was recorded at 2.47" by Hugh Moore at the pumping plant south of town while the gauge of Royal Oakes recorded 2.97" of rain, all of which fell in about 40 minutes.

Those reporting to the draft in April were Austin Winkleman, George Magelitz, Rube Andres, Richard Finney, Robert H. Boes, Edward Richard Lizenby, Bernard Albert Seeman, with Geo. Magelitz in command of the group.

The old Wabash Depot, its outbuildings and Meehan Hotel, all long gone, in Bluffs, Illinois

The first part of July an old Bluffs land mark was razed by Otis Baird. It was the old Ballard and Johnson restaurant and Hotel building which had been purchased by Lottie Evans. It was last operated by James Steele, and its removal obliterated the last remaining evidence of what was during the hey-day of Wabash passenger service, the most profitable restaurant-hotel on the Moberly-Decatur division. Train schedules were so arranged that two trains stopped 20 minutes for breakfast, two for the evening meal, one at noon and one at midnight, while all the Keokuk branch trains were made up in Bluffs in the morning and terminated there in the evening. Local freights on the main line were terminated at Bluffs, also, and business boomed at the Hotel. During its hey-day the hotel had 15 employees and the waiters were uniformed at the lunch counter and in the huge dining room.

The Wabash track was washed out west of Bluffs for the fourth time this spring when heavy rains lodged drift in front of the Wabash bridges and the dammed water went over the rails. Floods here were so regular they used to tell that the track men brought in their tools for fear they would be washed away during the night. The rain this past week washed out the high line track and flooded the Woodson land twice in less than a week.

The team then went on to win the Regional Tourney at Jacksonville, but lost the Sectional to Perry in Quincy.

Lankford the carpenter in charge. This new building promises to be a fine addition to Bluffs.

Sgt. Alfred Enke was slightly wounded in action Jan. 3rd in Belgium, according to information received by his wife, Rowena Gilman Enke.

T. B. Meehan, Bluffs Postmaster, received a telegram Feb. 7th, telling him that his sister, Mary Meehan Harries had been liberated from the Santo Tomas prison camp in Manila and that she was well and safe. Mrs. Harries had been in the Philippines since 1935 with her husband, Col. Herbert L. Harries, who died on Corregidor, and Mrs. Harries and her brother, Lt. Julian Meehan, had been captured by the Japanese and held prisoner. They were still unable to confirm exact welfare of him.

Harold Frohwitter, editor of Times while P.H. Vannier and wife were in service, wrote editorial concerning condition of the roads. We quote "This is a subject that we do not like to mention, because we know that those in charge are working under a great handicap with the shortages of war and the weather as it has been. But on the other hand, it is a situation that should be remedied. Starting back in the early 20's the horse drawn hearse in many communities were discarded. The automobile and improved roads made this possible. Since that time both have been improved, but in Bluffs during certain times it is again necessary to revert back to horse drawn conveyances. Those in charge of our roads, we feel should make it a point to see that highways to churches and cemeteries are kept open so that traffic other than horse drawn, can travel at all times. The people of the community have a right to expect this convenience and those in charge should make it a point to remedy the matter.

About $700. damage was caused by a fire in the smoke room of the Bluffs Locker Plant Feb. 8th; and the St. Louis Post Dispatch reported an NBC broadcast from Santo Tomas internment camp by Mary Meehan Harries, who stated her brother had died during the infamous death march from Bataan, and that the internees never lost hope because "we knew Gen. MacArthur would not let us down."

Fred Cockerill and M. J. Baulos started work on a new modern building to house the Bluffs Garage. Besides work on cars and tractors the new garage will serve as headquarters for Allis-Chalmers farm machinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Castle were presented with an Air Medal with an Oak leaf cluster in behalf of their son, 2nd Lt. Vincent R. Castle of the U. S. Air Force, who had been killed in England, June 19, 1943 when he crashed in his Thunderbolt fighter plane, and the Purple Heart and Presidential citations were awarded posthumously to Mr. and Mrs. James Dugan in behalf of their son, Richard, who was killed in action in Belgium Dec. 26, 1944.

The Meehan family received a letter from Mrs. Harries in February, 1945, which we felt was so poignant that we have reprinted it in its entirety:

February 9, 1945

Dear Folks:

I'm not going to write much except to tell you that despite everything, I am fine. It's been tough going, and I only weigh 107; but I'm really well and that's not just to make you folks feel good.

I have sent 2 letters, but of course we are anxious to get out as many as possible, especially in the last day or so, to reassure you all.

I don't know of course just what news, personal news, you may have had, but judge from letters from Army friends, that you must know that Herb and Mickey won't come back with me. Some day I can tell it all to you, but anyway let me tell you there is no surcease for grief like pride, and I know when I can tell you that you all will be as proud of my two boys as I am.

Its been a long hard pull and we have been in the power of a people WHO ARE INCREDIBLE, and that we are even alive is a miracle. If I could only make you see and know our joy, our thankfulness, for our deliverance, if I can some day tell you what it means to walk again free. It has made us all appreciate a thousand fold the priceless privilege of being Americans and I believe I can truthfully say that we have held up the flag too -- these devils have humiliated us -- broke us -- never -- and we have starved on our feet (tho I admit pretty wobbly) -- they never got us to our knees. As for me, I want to get home to you all -- to my own people who will make me forget these long frightened and hungry lonely nights -- and I'm certainly going to enjoy being a grand auntie to all these new kids.

Now once again we are under our own flag -- greeting so many old friends who are in the Army of liberation. It's all been so dramatic we are stupefied -- really. No telling what will happen yet -- its not over -- the thing I want you all, if anything should happen to me, to remember that I BEQUEATH YOU A HERITAGE OF UNDYING HATE for the Japs. Never, never forget it. I hope to see you all, before too long, until then, Adios.

Mary

A good portion of this material and some new, went into a new garage, the concrete floor of which had been laid. Chapin carpenters were doing the work. L. C. Bank of Bluffs

ORIGINAL BANK OF BLUFFS...date unknown.

The Bank of Bluffs, organized almost a century ago, started business in what is now the Gregory Appliance Store. The old building was remodeled to conform with needs of a modern bakery with living quarters above and was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Corbridge, who later moved to Champaign in the early 20's. Following a fire which destroyed the W.H. Green Hardware and the W.J. Doyle Grocery store the old bank building became the Green Hardware, became a bake shop again when sold to James Wolford, son of the late Charles Wolford. The W.H. Green and Son moved across the street to the Fred Brockhouse building now Dicken's Electric Shop. When the Wolford Bakery closed the Hardware store recrossed the street to the one time bank building.

The stockholders on August 3, 1893 were: William Neat, C. H. Condit, Frank Linkins, William McCaleb, Herman Hobrock, Charles Crisp, George E. Husband, Henry Dresser, John Knoeppel and Henry Knoeppel. F. W. Korty joined the partnership on August 5, 1893, and Charles Oakes on September 29, 1893. On organization date, John Knoeppel was elected president, and Frank Linkins, cashier.

In 1907 the bank erected a new building of Bedford stone at the Southeast corner of Bluffs and Oakes Streets. This building with improvements has since been the home of the bank.

On November 1, 1920, the Bank of Bluffs was incorporated as a State Bank. At that time G.W. Woodall, S. G. Smith, Charles Oakes, Royal Oakes, George H. Vannier, Clarence McCaleb and H. C. Knoeppel were the board of directors. Charles Oakes, President, H. C. Knoeppel, Vice President, E. L. Kendall, Cashier, J. A. Knoeppel, Assistant Cashier, Florence Lashmet, Bookkeeper, were the officers and employees of the bank.

The bank's present board of directors are Henry H. Kilver, J. A. Knoeppel, F. J. Muntman, Harold Oakes and Clyde L. Taylor. The present officers and employees are: President, J. A. Knoeppel, Vice President, F. J. Muntman, Cashier, Clyde L. Taylor, Assistant Cashier, Jack C. Moore, Assistant Cashier, Vera H. Korty, Bookkeeper and Teller, Corrine M. Orchard, Bookkeeper and Teller, Orma Meier, Bookkeeper and Teller, Donald L. Kilver, and Julia A. Huddleston, Building Custodian.

This postcard pictures four officials. L to R: Henry Knoeppel, E. L. Kendall, Albert Knoeppel and Charles Hale. They with Charles Oakes, early founder of Bluffs, shaped its destiny. All were natives of the area except Mr. Kendall who came to Bluffs on a bicycle. He married the daughter of J. C. Lewis, druggist and Opera House owner, Mrs. Ray Griswold. Mr. Kendall was the first president of the Civic Club. The present Lewis Park and Library site are generous gifts honoring the Kendalls and Mrs. Lewis.

The Lewis building housing a drug store, the office of Dr. Harvey Sears (later the Kopp Barber Shop) and the Kilpatrick Undertaking Room have been raised.

The make-shift Civic Club platform for free Saturday night programs grew into the present outdoor stage, complete with dressing rooms and landscaped grounds. A croquet court, project of the WPA days had been removed for more picnic and playground area. A stone marks the Park donor and the American Legion places a wreath on the marker dedicated to those who lost their life in War II.

History of Bluffs Public Library

Many changes have taken place since Bluffs first had a library, but each change has been a step forward.

As nearly as can be determined, the first type of library in Bluffs was started in 1932 as part of either a WPA or NYA project for the community and was located on the second floor of the old City Hall with Vita Chapman as director. Lending books obtained from the Illinois State Library was only part of this project. The first major step toward a permanent Library was taken in 1937 when the American Legion helped start a Public Library with books borrowed from the WPA with Mrs. August Damin as Librarian. This was located on the second floor of the Bridgman Building where the American Legion had their headquarters and the Legion assisted with both volunteer labor and money to get this started. This arrangement continued until 1943 when the American Legion decided it would continue this on a limited schedule for three months, with a member from each other organization on an Advisory Board. As an outcome of this, on July 20, 1943, a special election was held to levy a tax of 2 mills on the dollar for the purpose of maintaining a Public Library in the Village of Bluffs; thus the first tax-supported Library was established in Bluffs twenty-eight years ago. In this special election, 42 people voted for the proposal, 1 against, and 1 ballot was spoiled. The newly elected Library Trustees were E. L. Kendall, Dr. E. C. Thorne, C. M. Ritter, C. O. Mueller, August Damin, and Mrs. O. A. Woodson. Dr. E. C. Thorne was elected President of the Library Board and remained in that position until his death.

In 1947, the American Legion moved from the Bridgman Building, thus leaving the Library on their own, but to help the Library over a bad financial time, the Legion voted to help pay the rent and utilities for several months for the Library to remain in the building. In October, 1948, Mrs. E. L. Kendall gave the property formerly occupied by the telephone office adjacent to the Park to the Library. In 1954, the Bluffs Library was moved to this location. Mrs. E. C. Thorne became the second Librarian in September, 1955.

In 1966, plans were drawn for a new Library building and submitted to the Village Board for discussion relative to an election for a bond issue to build a new building. An election was held on November 1, 1966, and the bond issue was approved. Since it had been decided to build the new building on the property donated by Mrs. Kendall, it was necessary to pack and store the books and raze the old Library. The new Library was opened for the public on February 5, 1968. In the meantime, Mrs. Wilmont Boes, the third Librarian, had been succeeded by Mrs. Bernard Beeley, our present Librarian.

Since its inception in 1937, one of the major improvements has been to become a member of the Great River Library System, enabling the public to have at their disposal a large and varied selection of good books, records, and films. Over the years, the Library has often experienced some lean years, but survived and thrived due to the efforts of the past Board members and the citizens of the community. Among those who have served as Library Board members, in addition to those already listed, are Mrs. Paul Vannier, Royal Oakes, John Allen, M. Leroy Pond, and Mrs. E. L. Kendall, Honorary Board Chairman, Mrs. Amelia Mueller, Rev. M. D. Goldsborough, Mrs. Jack Moore.

The present board is as follows: Mrs. John Allen, Pres., Mrs. J. W. Freeman, Secretary; Mrs. David Orchard, Treasurer; Mrs. Norris Whorton, Mr. Bernard Goetze, Mrs. James Bailey.

Our Churches

United Methodist Church

The first organization of the M. P. church in Bluffs was affected in 1844 when a group of citizens met in a log school house in the northeast part of town. Thomas Green Sr., was the main pillar of the church then, and for many years later.

A frame church was erected one-half mile north of Bluffs in 1858. Twenty years later the church house was moved to the present location and in 1895 it was remodelled to the extent of $1600 and the organization became detached from the Chapin circuit whom they had been affiliated with previously.

Saturday, August 9, 1913 a meeting was held and bids opened for the building of a new church. Contract was awarded to Harry Branch of Pittsfield and the building was to cost approximately $7,500.00.

On Saturday, August 23, 1913 work began on the new building, a short service of song and prayer was held and the first shovel of dirt was turned by Mrs. Anna Chance, who had been a member of the church over 42 years.

The new church was completed and the dedication program was held on February 14, 1914 with an all-day service.

The Reverend M. C. Goldsborough is the present pastor of the Bluffs Methodist Church. He has served Bluffs and Naples for the past several years and is well liked and respected by the parishioners and townspeople.

St. Patrick's Catholic Church

St. Patrick's Catholic Church has reason to celebrate a Centennial. It is 100 years old this year. It was built in 1871 and has stood the ravages of time well. It is still a pretty good building though it has had much work and improvements made on it in the last 29 years. The Congregation making up the parish today expect to be going there to Mass for years to come.

Before the building of the church the old timers had Mass in the homes of John O'Brien and William Quinlan. Many Catholics lived in Naples, at the time, for it was quite a hamlet with much river activity. Boats plied the river daily and business in the little town was brisk. A letter from Mrs. Margaret Evans Hirth, Pekin, daughter of the late Mrs. Charlotte Evans tells more than the average person knows about the Catholic faith practice in those days.

Paragraphs in her letter to Mrs. E. J. Kearney, who has lived here only two score years, has this to say about what mother Evans said regarding the early days, "Sorry I cannot tell you more of mama's version of the days of long ago. Regarding the building of St. Patrick's Church I remember that she said her grandfather John Meehan drove horse and wagon to Griggsville for rocks for the church foundation. Great grandfather Meehan and his sons, John, Michael and Thomas (grandfather of Mary Claire Meehan Hagood, and his hired men and many good men of that day built the church. Being a Meehan, of course, great-grandfather was foreman of the crew." Of course, the ancestors, Thomas O'Brien and his wife also did their best and helped build the church. A Mrs. Morgan and other women, it is said, "gathered in the money" to equip the church, etc.

Edward Kearney's own mother, a native of Ireland who with her husband, Patrick Kearney often related the fact that they once attended Mass at a Mrs. Doyle's home in Naples. Evidently she was the mother of the late Billie Doyle, Mrs. Katie Anderson and Mrs. Ella Memis.

Mrs. Hirth adds to her letter the following of interest. "Another interesting story, was before the church was built Sunday Mass was said at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Evans' grandparents. The chest that was used as an altar was given to the former Charlotte Evans, daughter of Joe Evans, it being a gift from Mrs. Charlotte Evans remembered here yet today for all the good deeds she did. Young Charlotte has it rubbed down, and it is lovelier than ever. She and her husband are proud of it."

So much for the old days of St. Patrick's Church. At one time it is said 125 people attended Mass there and that would have made for a crowded church. The first Mass was said by Father D.J. Cogan in 1872. In 1893 some rear rooms were added to the Church. It was thought the priest could sleep there and eat elsewhere. Little used then, they have come in handy in recent years by the students in the Christian Doctrine classes.

A good many years after the church was built, Father Lydon, pastor of the church in Mt. Sterling, came here and said Sunday Mass. He came on Saturday and stayed overnight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien. Connections on the high line were poor and he had to wait for the Monday morning train to get back to Mt. Sterling.

At the present the church has for its pastor Rev. A.D. LeBreton. Father LeBreton lives in Winchester and serves St. Mark's Church in that town. He travels to Bluffs several times during the week to fulfill his duties at our mission church.

Much has been done in the past two years to redecorate the inside of the church. When work needs to be done, Father LeBreton can depend on his parishioners to work with great zeal because their mission church means very much to them.

The experience of the Second Vatican council has given Catholics in the United States a fresh outlook and new horizons. St. Patrick's Church in Bluffs is in harmony with the intentions of the council and feels that ours is not completely a church of the past. Ours is always a church of the present moment, thus, we move with an awareness of the times.

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church

In November 1912 a group of people met with the Rev. P. A. Soerenson who was the Pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Meredosia, Trinity and Oxville Lutheran Churches, for the purpose of organizing a Lutheran Church in Bluffs. Soon after this meeting, on December 15th, they began holding services in the Lewis Opera House in Bluffs and a short time later they purchased the land where the church is now located.

Construction of the new church began immediately and was soon completed. On November 2nd, 1913, the corner stone was laid at a service at 10:00 A.M. after which the congregation received the keys to the church and immediately entered the sanctuary for the dedication of the building to the glory of God.

We have not been able to find an exact list of the charter members but among the first members were the family names of Albers, Benz, Botterbusch, Brockhouse, Comrady, Engelbrecht, Finnigsmeyer, Gilman, Guenther, Hubbert, Huseman, Knoepfel, Krusa, Middendorf, Mueller, Nortrup, Puls, Ranft, Schroeder, Schuessler, Tholen, Vannier, Vortman and Weiss. Other names were soon added to the list. Because many of the members were of German background services were held in both the German and English languages.

In 1914 the congregation decided to purchase a parsonage in Bluffs located on Branch Street and Rev. Sorenson and his family moved to Bluffs while continuing to serve the Meredosia, Trinity and Oxville Congregations along with St. John's which he continued to serve until November 1st, 1915. From then until 1920 he served only the Bluffs and Oxville Congregations.

Following the resignation of Rev. Sorenson in 1920, the Meredosia and Trinity Congregations again united with the Bluffs and Oxville Congregations in calling a Pastor and in November of 1920 the Rev. W. C. Heidenreich came to serve the four congregations. At his suggestion, the four congregations at their Annual Meetings in January voted to affiliate with the new Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. During his pastorate, regular services in the German Language were discontinued but special services and Holy Communion were Administered in the German language for some time. In 1925 the church building was raised from its foundation and the basement was excavated to provide for a large room for the Sunday School and a social room and on the north a kitchen and boiler room for the new heating system. A change was also made at the front which was extended to provide a basement entrance on the west side of the main entrance and also provided for a cloak room on the east. The nave was replastered and rededicated on November 8th, 1925. Rev. Heidenreich resigned in April 1927 after almost seven years as pastor.

In June 1928, the Rev. J. S. Utesch came to serve the four churches and continued to do so until December 31st, 1932, when he resigned from active pastoral work and moved to Chicago.

In 1932 our congregation sent its first and only man into fulltime work for God. Marteen Kilver graduated from Carthage College in 1929, then after attending the Seminary at Maywood was ordained in the spring of 1932.

In June 1933, the Rev. W. A. Hallen, a young pastor, came and served the four churches until May 26, 1938, when he resigned from Bluffs and Oxville and moved to Meredosia.

In April 1939 a call was extended to the Rev. L. C. Ogan who came in May to serve St. John's and Oxville. During his ministry the Oxville Church voted to discontinue services and disband as many members had transferred to St. John's until December 31st, 1940, when he was called to Advent Church in St. Louis where he is still serving.

The Rev. Samuel W. Jensen was called in February 1941 and began serving in June after his ordination into the Illinois Synod. He resigned on January 31st, 1943.

The Rev. Dwight A. Filkins, a graduate of the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary was called May 1943 and installed on June 29th of that year. During his ministry the property of the Oxville Congregation was disposed of with Rev. Filkins representing the Illinois Synod. He resigned in 1947.

After several months with a resident pastor a call was given to the Rev. Johann Rodvik of Fort Madison, Iowa, and he began his pastorate November 1st, 1947. During his ministry, a new Hammond Electric Organ and Chimes with Out-door Amplification System was purchased and installed with dedication taking place on March 13, 1949. Rev. Rodvik resigned on August 31st, 1950.

For several months the pulpit was again filled with supply pastors from Carthage College and in April 1951 another newly ordained pastor, the Rev. Irl C. Schahrer was called and began serving in July. The interior of the church was redecorated during his ministry. He continued his work until July 15, 1954, when he submitted his resignation.

Supply pastors again filled the pulpit until June 7th, 1955, when the Rev. Karlis T. Kuskevics came and began his pastorate. Soon after his arrival the congregation voted to sell the parsonage on Branch Street and build a new parsonage on the lot back of the church. This parsonage was ready for occupancy by January 1st, 1956, and was dedicated by the late Rev. Harmon J. McGuire, president of the Illinois Synod on June 3rd, 1956. Later that year the Young People's Sunday School Class purchased the beautiful stained glass windows which we have, from Trinity Lutheran Church in Golden, Illinois. They were installed in February and dedicated September 22, 1957. On January 6, 1960, Rev. Kuskevics resigned after serving here almost five years to go to St. Peter's Church in Chicago.

In March 1960 a call was extended to the Rev. Lyle E. Sucher who was ordained in May and installed as pastor of St. John's June 19th, 1960. In May 1961 the two lots east of the church were purchased from the Doyle estate, the gift of Mrs. Della Albers. In July 1963 the congregation voted to purchase the Charles Wills property east of the church for a parsonage, with funds received from the Lyle Husband estate. This parsonage was dedicated September 22, 1963. Rev. Sucher left Bluffs in the spring of 1964.

In 1965 the Rev. Kenneth Lein served as pastor of St. John's until 1966.

Since that time the Rev. George Bischoff has served as vice-pastor.

Trinity Lutheran Church

Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church of Neelyville was organized in the year 1870, after preaching services or Sunday School had been held for sometime previous, at first in the homes of some of the members.

On August 20, 1868, a piece of property was acquired as a cemetery, and on the north-west corner of this property, the congregation built its first house of worship. The exact date of the building and dedication of this first church can no longer be ascertained. The church records contain no account of the erection or dedication of this first church building. It is believed that the year 1870 was the year of dedication as the Trinity dates her history as an organization from that time.

Trinity's first pastor after the congregation was organized was the Rev. F. W. Wamke. Rev. Wamke served as pastor for St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Congregation near Chapin, also. He continued in that capacity until 1881. On February 6, 1881, Rev. Wamke died. On the second Sunday after Easter, 1881, Rev. J. H. Haake was installed. Rev. Haake served both Trinity and St. Paul's congregations for ten years from 1881 to 1891. In 1891 he accepted a call to the Lutheran Church at Mt. Prospect Cook County, Illinois. On the eleventh Sunday after Trinity, 1891, Rev. Ed. Tappenback, who came to Illinois from Nebraska, was installed as pastor of both congregations.

In a few years, the desire was expressed by both congregations to have church services in both churches every Sunday morning. In a meeting held on June 24, 1894, Trinity decided to build a parsonage and call its own pastor. A call was sent to Rev. H.G. Schwagmeyer of Butler, Pennsylvania. Rev. Schwagmeyer accepted the call and he was installed as Trinity's first resident pastor on the 13th Sunday after Trinity 1894, by Rev. Tappenback. A short time later, he moved into the newly erected parsonage build on a three acre plot of ground west of the original church property, upon the hill where the congregation held its first services many years before.

On May 27, 1901, the congregation decided the old church building was no longer adequate to accommodate the growing congregation and decided to gather funds for the purpose of building a new church. A committee was chosen together with the pastor and work began. Since it had been decided to put the new building on the same spot as the old one was standing it was necessary first to move the old church across the road.

The cornerstone for the new church was laid on November 10, 1901, the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther. On May 25, 1902 the building was dedicated.

Two years after the dedication of the church it was decided to tear down the old church building and erect a school out of the salvaged material. On November 20, 1904 this building was dedicated.

Trinity has never enjoyed the privilege of a full time church school. A number of attempts have been made to start such a school, but always with rather disheartening results.

On September 30, 1915, Pastor Schwagmeyer accepted a call to become pastor of St. Paul's Congregation at Vandalia, Ill. The Rev. John Deterding, stationed at Mattoon, Wisconsin, was called. He accepted the call and was installed as Trinity's second resident pastor on November 7, 1915.

In July, 1917, a Ladies' Aid Society was organized, which chose as its name "The Willing Workers." This organization remains active to this date.

Although Trinity was served by pastors of the Missouri Synod almost since the beginning, it was not a member of this synod. In the year 1920, Mr. Ed Northrup made the motion that they became a voting member of the Missouri Synod. The motion was passed.

Sometime after 1922 a young people's society was organized and is presently one of the most active organizations within our church.

The old cemetery having become almost filled, necessitated that Trinity congregation purchase more land. A two-acre plot of ground about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile northeast of the church was purchased in the year 1924 and laid out for burial lots.

In 1940, only one service each month was preached in the German language; the other services were preached in the English language. The congregation decided in 1943 that all services were to be preached in the English language and this practice remains to date.

In 1946 the Men's Club was organized, and remains active today.

In February of the year 1959, Pastor Deterding died. Pastor Matzke of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Chapin, became our vacancy pastor. During the vacancy period, five calls were extended and returned. On December 9, 1959, a call was extended to Pastor Hawley. He accepted much to the gratitude of the congregation.

In the year 1960, the month of February, Pastor James Hawley became the third resident pastor in the history of Trinity Lutheran Church. In July or August of 1964 Pastor Hawley accepted a call to Concordia Lutheran Church, Decatur, Ill. From August 1964 to January 1965 the church was served by a vacancy pastor from Jacksonville; Rev. Otto Borchelt. In January 1965, Rev. R.C. Staudacher came to Trinity. He died in September 1965. From September 1965 to August 1966, Rev. Otto Borchelt was again vacancy pastor of Trinity.

On August 7, 1966, Rev. Donald Kroll was ordained and installed pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. He is, to date, still pastor at Trinity, and pastor at Christ Lutheran Church, Winchester, Illinois.

Plans for a new church were brought forth by ground breaking ceremonies October 29, 1967. The cornerstone was laid in ceremonies on September 8, 1968. The Congregation's new church was dedicated on January 26th, 1969. The Trinity Lutheran Church celebrated its centennial year in 1970.

The Vanniers converted the 1895 building into five five-room apartments in 1946 with outside control hotwater heating. They were able to obtain materials only by priority of Military service and the apartments could be rented only to War II Veterans. They were Virgil Coughlin, Melvin Dalhaus, Leroy Goodin and William Kendall.

Bluffs Baptist Church

The Bluffs Baptist Church was first organized about the year 1941. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hullinger were two of the first members. When their home burned in 1952 all of the previous records were lost in the fire.

In 1955 when Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bruce moved to this community there were nine members. At the present there are approximately 70 members and the average Sunday School attendance over the last few months is 72.

Some former pastors of the Church are: Bro. Clarence Lister, Bro. Jimmie Beck, Bro. Bruce B. Holmes, Bro. John Acree, Bro. James A. Wesbecker, Bro. John Helenthal, Bro. James Bailey.

Bro. Paul Day is the present Pastor. He and Mrs. Day have two children, Paul Jr., and Cindy. This is his first pastorate and he is very dedicated to the Lord's work.

Two from the church have answered the call to Christian Service as preachers. Brother Larry Childers, pastor of Rushville Baptist Church and Brother Wendy Sapp, student at college, studying for his work in the ministry.

The former Church building was erected in 1904 and was at the time Free Methodist. In 1942, the building was purchased and thereafter known as the Bluffs Baptist Church. The Church was razed during the summer of 1967. On March 10, 1965, the Church, with Rev. J.A. Wesbecker as pastor voted to elect a Building Committee which was composed of LeRoy Vortman, Jack Barnett and Bob Little. Plans for the structure were drawn by John W. Allen. Ground-breaking ceremonies were held in April.

The building is 30 x 50 of brick veneer. The auditorium is constructed of laminated wood beams with nursery provisions and a pastor's study. The picture of the Head of Christ, which hangs at the front of the Church, was given by "Grandma" Kate Barnett, now deceased. The Church has a full basement, with two rest rooms, a kitchen and classrooms with paneling and petitions. The first services in the new building were held on January 8, 1967. All of the labor was volunteer except the laying of the bricks and the installation of the glass doors.

Many difficulties had to be overcome, and the few faithful members are to be commended for the many months of hard labor. God bless each one and those who had a financial part, which also included individuals in the community that are not members of the Church.

History of Bluffs Home Bureau

On November 12, 1936, the Bluffs Home Bureau held its first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Leonard for the purpose of organizing and electing officers. Mrs. Agnes Doherty was the Morgan-Scott County Home Advisor, and assisted at the meeting. Officers elected were: Mrs. Edw. Albers, Chrm.; Mrs. Raymond Morris, vice-Chrm.; and Mrs. David Leonard, Secretary and Treas. The charter members were Mrs. Edward Albers, Mrs. Raymond Morris, Mrs. Elmer Vortman, Mrs. Paul Vannier, Mrs. James Chambers, Mrs. Lee Morris, Mrs. Margaret Berry, Mrs. Chas. Krusa, Miss Virgie Buchanan, Mrs. Harry Koch, Mrs. Carl Cox, Mrs. Benjamin Grote, Mrs. O. A. Woodson and Mrs. David Leonard.

The Home Advisor explained the educational advantages for the homemaker in this organization. Meeting dates and local leaders for lessons were selected.

This unit continued with a good number of members and attendance and in November of 1953 a new night unit for Bluffs was started. The present Bluffs Day Unit has 23 members.

Of the original or charter members, the only one still an active member of Homemaker's Extension in this area is Mrs. Paul Vannier. Mrs. Charles Krusa, deceased, has a daughter, daughter-in-law and a granddaughter-in-law active in Homemaker's units in Bluffs. Other charter members have relatives active in Bluffs units also.

In July of 1968 Scott County separated from Morgan County and organized their own Scott County Homemaker's Extension Units with a Bluffs native, Florence Metternick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kilver, as Home Advisor. At this time two more units were organized at Bluffs, another night unit and a morning unit. Mrs. Metternick very ably served as Home Advisor until her retirement in January of 1970. Mrs. Wayne Bruns, Winchester, is the present Home Advisor.

Good Luck, Bluffs!

History of Bluffs Woman's Club

On the afternoon of November 17, 1913 a group of women met at the home of Mrs. E. D. Beird for the purpose of organizing a club.

Thus was born the Bluffs Household Science Club, whose object was the "Study of Household Science" on any subject, for the betterment of the home and the community.

Some of the various projects sponsored by the club over the 58 years are: the foot bridge over Wolf-run Creek, Hot lunches at the school, playground equipment for the school yard, street signs, trash cans for the town, club signs, drapes for the Civic Club rooms and medical building, large globe, dictionary and books for the library, music camp scholarships for students from the High School. Sponsorship of the Girl Scouts, donations for Little League, Christmas parties for Veterans at State Hospital and forgotten people there.

This is only a very small part of the work done by the Club over the years for the community, and in addition to support of the State and General Federation projects and program. Girl Scout Troops of Bluffs

"On my honor, I will try;
To do my duty to God and my country,
To help other people at all times,
To obey the Girl Scout Laws."

Approximately 150 girls between the ages of nine and fourteen living in the Bluffs area have said, and tried to live, this promise as a member of a Bluffs Girl Scout Troop.

The first charter was granted to the Bluffs community in the fall of 1951 for a troop of Intermediate Girl Scouts. Troop 66 was sponsored by the local Junior Woman's Club with Jerri Whorton (Mrs. Norris) acting as co-ordinator. Two women, Marge Freeman (Mrs. J. W.), and Alice Freesen (Mrs. Robert), welcomed seven girls into girl scouting; Connie Albers, Janet Fredrick, Nancy Jo Mains, Shirley Marsh, Sandy Oakes, Sheila Smothers, and Posie Tuescher. Troop 66 continued under the leadership of Marge Freeman and assistants Alice Freesen and Rachel Likes (Mrs. Arthur) from 1951 through the spring of 1955. During this period Sue Bridgman, Judy Brockhouse, Sharon Dunham, Carolyn Likes, Karen Morthole, Judy Orchard, Norma Six and Kaye Strubbe joined the activities of the troop.

In the fall of 1955 Mary Sears (Mrs. Carroll) became the troop leader with Bonnie Mains and Janet Hullinger joining Troop 66. During Girl Scout Week of 1956, all the Girl Scouts of Scott County were invited to visit the Executive Mansion in Springfield. William G. Stratton was governor at this time. This was one time the girls were happy to be living in the smallest county in the state.

A period of two years lapsed in Bluffs without a Girl Scout troop. Then on April 16, 1958, a charter was again granted for a troop of Intermediate Girl Scouts. Troop 85 was sponsored by the local PTA organization. Four women: Betty Alexander (Mrs. William); Fran Pond (Mrs. M. Leroy) welcomed thirty girls into girl scouting. A troop committee responsible for transportation, chaperoning, and refreshments consisted of Mrs. Hubert Gregory, Mrs. Virgil Coughlin, Mrs. Clyde Hullinger, and Mrs. Glenn Brockhouse. Because of the large number of girls in the troop, two patrols were formed, the Evergreen Patrol and the Rainbow Patrol.

Mary Ann Morris (Mrs. Harold) joined the troop as a new leader 1960, along with Mrs. Harvey (Mable) Vortman as a new troop committee member with 19 girls returning.

The growing demand of girls wanting to become Girl Scouts brought the formation of Troop 22 for Intermediate Girl Scouts in November 1960. Mildred Allen and Mae Brockhouse (Mrs. Glenn) were the troop leaders with Mrs. Paul Vannier, Mrs. Harvey Vortman and Mrs. Tom Brackett as members of the troop committee.

Troops 85 and 22 consolidated and registered with the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council as Troop 85 in the fall of 1961, with Marge Freeman and Fran Pond as leaders. Mrs. Norris Whorton and Mrs. Harvey Vortman took on the duties of the troop committee.

Bluffs Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 85 was privileged to be a part of the "Girl Scout Birthday Years" from 1960 through 1963. The slogan of this celebration was "Honor the Past - Serve the Future". The girls started the celebration on November 3, 1960, by presenting a skit called "A Scout's Own" to their sponsor, the PTA, in honor of Founders Day and the 100th birthday of J. Low. On April 19, 1961, Troop 85 celebrated its birthday with a tea served by the leaders. "Troop members" . . . started hiking from Brackett's farm southwest of Exeter and hiked out to a cabin which was built in 1827, by a Haskell family. In March 1962, the girls planted marigold seeds in individual pots and each girl cared for the plant at home until April. In April the girls transplanted the small plants and additional seeds in front of the newly constructed medical building in Bluffs. On March 12, 1962, the 50th birthday of Girl Scouts of America was celebrated with a pizza party at the Civic Club.

1964 saw a great change in Girl Scouting nationally. Up until this time Girl Scouts were divided into three levels: Brownies, ages 8 and 9; Intermediates, ages 10, 11, 12 and 13; and Seniors, ages 14, 15, 16 and 17. As of 1964 the levels of Girl Scouting became Brownies, ages 7 and 8; Juniors, ages 9, 10, 11; Cadettes, ages 12, 13, 14; and Seniors, ages 15, 16, and 17.

Bluffs Troop 85 was reorganized with the advent of the change from Intermediate to Junior Scouts. The troop number was changed to 90 and Mary Sears (Mrs. Carroll) took over its leadership with Mrs. LeRoy Fresen, Mrs. Thomas Dickens, and Mrs. Earl Lovekamp as Troop committee members.

For a second time since the first troop was formed, Bluffs was without a Girl Scout troop in the 1966-67 school year. However, in September, 1967, it was started up again under the same Troop number, 90, with Mary Ann Bailey (Mrs. James), Linda Mueller (Mrs. Lari), and Jean Burns (Mrs. Carl) as leaders.

Mary Dunahm took over the leadership of Troop 90 in 1970 with Faye Kilver, Betty Hoots (Mrs. Gerald) and Jean Burns for assistants and Mrs. Robert Smith on the troop committee.

1970 also saw an additional level of scouting started in the Bluffs Community. Mildred Allen took on the leadership of a Cadette Troop, assigned troop number 35. Their main interest was in Emergency Preparedness. Troop 35 sponsored a first aid course for anyone in the Bluffs community interested in attending as a part of their Challenge work.

The first Brownie Scout Troop was established in Bluffs in the fall of 1958 under the leadership of June Brackett and Bernita Likes (Mrs. Danny).

In the fall of 1961 the Brownies received a new troop number, 54, and three new leaders: Mary Sears (Mrs. Carroll) with Norma Prunty (Mrs. Keith) as assistant, Mrs. Marvin Hiernan, and Mrs. Dean Merriman. The troop committee consisted of Mesdames Gerald Schmitz, Verlin Rolf and John Pollock.

Mary Sears returned to troop 54 in 1962 with Mrs. Allen Coultas and Mrs. Bernard Beeley as assistant leaders.

1963 saw a change in leadership for Troop 54. Freda Beeley (Mrs. Bernard) and her assistant Melba June Welch (Mrs. Paul) welcomed nine new Brownies.

Leadership of Brownie Troop 54 again changed in 1964 with Shirley Cox (Mrs. Kenneth) taking on the duties with Mrs. Welch as assistant and Louise Collison as troop committee chairman.

Brownie Troop 54 welcomed Mildred Allen (Mrs. John) as their leader in the fall of 1966, with Betty Gregory staying on as assistant. Mrs. Allen has been with scouts since that time.

Marilyn Norton (Mrs. John) joined the troop as an assistant leader in 1969 along with 17 new Brownies. In the spring of 1970, the mothers and leaders of Brownie Troop 54 joined with those of Junior Troop 90 and planned and held a benefit smorgasbord at the Bluffs School Cafeteria. The proceeds from this undertaking were used to pay the entire fee for 27 Brownies and 26 juniors to attend Camp Shagbark during the summer.

Brownie Troop 54 welcomed Jan Krusa (Mrs. Carl) as an assistant leader with Mildred Allen retaining the leadership and Pat Mueller staying on as assistant. Again the mothers and leaders of Junior Troop 90 joined with Troop 54 to hold the annual benefit smorgasbord in the Bluffs School Cafeteria with the proceeds again being used to send 26 Brownies and 30 Junior Scouts to camp during the summer of 1971.

With Pride in the Past and Faith in the Future of Bluffs,

we Salute their 100th Anniversary!

friends and neighbors of the full line list if one wanted to listen in on all tangles. If too many receivers were raised when you called a party you might have to yell: "Will half of you people please hang up! My dry cell batteries are not strong enough to get Mary. She's probably out on the porch."

There's been a lot of picture post cards displayed in former issues but none have revealed other than "THE THIEF" showing of a picture. The Wagner Opera House with side door, but no fire exit, was the scene of the first moving picture of a world series or prize fight sponsored by Dick Nortrup, son of the man featured at the front of W. J. Doyle Grocery Store in this magazine. Dick, Junior might have sponsored what was termed the Nickel-odiu of that era. The movie moved to "The Loop" when the late Senator Meehan built a movie house at the dead end of main street, now a supply room for the Farmer's Grain Elevator. The floor, built to raise or lower was jacked up and down through the movie exit and D & M Tavern approach in the passing bootleg era with Sheets, Monta, Dunham, Meehan and Moore open doors. The Wagner opened the Opera House with the Biggers and Quintal sell out of department store and the youths of towns were all charged up by the Wagner daughter, the high school charm, according to young Wolford, Castle and Nortrup. The building to the left was once a bakery, now a barber shop, and the one on the corner was a meat market operated for years by George J. Vannier, father of Herman Vannier, and later by Henry Rolf and Andy Meyers of the Oxville community.

The buildings to the right contained at one time or another the telephone office and the Hildebrand Restaurant and the H. J. Vannier Restaurant. The site eventually became the VanGundy block building for Andre & Andre Furniture Store with an upstairs room for the two telephone companies combined by George VanGundy, father of Ray, into one switchboard with 24 hour service. Prior to that switchboard service ended at 10 p.m. The plugs were pulled and all gossip stopped, except on the party lines which had as many as 25 patrons with different bell combinations. Example: two longs and a short; 1 long, 2 shorts; and as many as four shorts plus and plus. Each customer had a cardboard with names in alphabetical sequence and opposite that: _____ etc. the length of the ting-a-lings. The cardboard was owner designed and would contain the special calls of

Mauvaisterre Drainage District Had Many Years of Floods as told by Charles Krusa

Landowners between Bluffs and Naples and north of the Mauvaisterre were losing crops when creeks flooded their land and organized what is now known as Mauvaisterre Drainage District composed of approximately 2000 acres in 1902.

Those interested were Cyrus Faulkner, J. O. Chambers, Wm. Albers, H. C. Krusa, M. B. Moore, Carrie Albers, John M. Ritter, Wallace and John Fred Albers. The last three were named commissioners by the court and James Warren, Winchester's leading attorney, was their legal representative.

The District first started at the south end of the Carrie Albers farm now owned by Helen Marsh and farmed by Norman Engelbrecht and followed the Mauvaisterre west and took in land north to the Wabash railroad, east out of Naples. The R. R. was the north boundary and the east boundary was the west edge of Margaret Unger farm now owned by Orban Atkins and farmed by Floyd Hart.

The purpose was to build a large levee to replace the small ones built by local land owners and to give year round protection from the Mauvaisterre. The project was to drain Bug Island Lake and adjacent land which at that time had only a small outlet with a flood gate on the Fred Albers land now farmed by Russell Albers. The gate could be raised and lowered to let flood water out, but the ditch wasn't deep enough.

Work was completed within a few years with the new outlet between the Faulkner and Chambers and through land now owned by Mrs. Leo Smith. The ditch went under the railroad about the present pumping plant to protect the District when the Illinois River was at flood stage.

The Illinois hit a high in 1908 with none other higher except in 1844. Water came into the District again in 1913. Lands were flooded again in 1916. The water was back again with a new high in 1922, flooding not only the low land but the Town of Naples. The Wabash tracks were covered and land as far north as the Morgan County line east of Smith Lake.

Frank Faulkner, H. C. Krusa and J. O. Chambers were commissioners at the time. The only remedy was to extend the District north to Dresser Ditch and east for the protection of acres flooded by 1922 water. The petition was circulated and sufficient signatures were secured to get approval.

Mathew Bros. of Chicago started levee protection against the River. It started near Chambers north from where Oliver Chambers lives and to the Wabash R. R. where a pumping plant was installed. Incidentally that same two cylinder Fairbanks-Morse Diesel is still running and pumped more surface and seepwater the past year than in any prior year. The levee was built north to Naples where money was provided by the State Legislature to defray part of the town's share of the protective work. The levee continued to the Abbott house and along the edge of Smith Lake east to Chas. Krusa place, north to Dresser Ditch, and east to the brick home of the late Bradshaw Mayes.

NAPLES FLOODED AGAIN. It was in August when work started on the big main ditch. The next month, Sept. 8th, a flash flood broke a dam at Jacksonville and the water poured into Mauvaisterre Creek and broke into both Mauvaisterre and Scott County Drainage near the covered bridge at Oxville.

Both District and Naples were flooded again and a large hole was washed out of the Marsh farm.

After the water receded the commissioners were granted permission by the court to use part of the $83,000 drainage assessment to repair the damage. A second assessment of $18,000 was necessary however, to complete the ditch work and the drainage system functioned satisfactorily in the 1933 and the 1935 high water.

GOVERNMENT HELP. More and higher protective levees were being built all along the Illinois River and in the early '30's the Federal Gov't. began to help build levees. The commissioners then, Gus Albers and Charles Krusa, and J. O. Chambers, applied for aid and the levee building project began; but all the right of way had to be furnished. The problem at Naples was how to raise the $4,000 needed for the work in town. The treasury was broke, Front Street was all but burned out and assessed valuation was too low for that bonding value.

The District had an additional assessment of $45,000 for needed right of way. It was either go east of Naples with a new levee or buy the property fronting on Water street. The commissioners got permission to use enough District money to provide roughly $2,000 for the town in turn for abandonment of Front St. and all crossings except the present one over the levee to the property formerly owned by Continental Grain Co. Dirt was borrowed, some had to be moved twice, from the small strip between Water St. and the river (reserved by the proprietors when Naples was plotted in August 1825) and from Water St. to fill any basements and to make the present levee which had its east rim at the west edge of the alley. Some owners sold their buildings, some houses were moved but Naples can be proud of a levee which is some three feet higher than outside the town limits, for just-in-case.

The main ditch and laterals have been cleaned at different times, first by Federal WPA and CCC Boys and other times by Leo Smith's drag line. The original annual maintenance cost of $3,000 is far from today's figure but during dry years and during the depression there was no assessment for that purpose.

THE DRY FLOOD. In 1943 the water hit 30.1 feet, the highest ever, and flooded the District going around the end of the levee near Burrus school lane and through Naples Cemetery where there wasn't any levee. It was an early and dry crop year with most of the corn and beans planted. It was called a "Dry Flood" because river folks in this area didn't know the source of the water. Next year, 1944, was a year too wet for all the crops until late June and the river stage at Naples was only 27 ft., the wettest year ever locally until 1970.

Since 1943 and '44 the river level has been more normal except 1970. Then it remained out of its banks for a long period, seep water kept drainage pumps running night and day for several months. Some farmers lost a part of their crop land, but checking a balance sheet against the years from the first commissioners in 1902 to the present Oliver Chambers, Wendell Brackett, and Earl Albers, the extra, special and regular assessments have been worth the hundreds of thousands of bushels of crop produced.

Bluffs Times '83' Years Old; Preceded by 'Recorder' and 'Advertiser'

To the late Dr. Carver and James Linkins belong the honors for starting the first paper, The Bluffs Recorder, here in 1878, seven years after Bluffs was incorporated.

That paper was of short life and in 1883, H. H. Meier and W. H. D. Meier established the second paper, the Bluffs Advertiser. The partnership was discontinued when W. H. D. Meier wanted to continue his education and the paper was sold to F. H. Shores.

The building housing the Shores printing equipment was destroyed by fire in August, 1890, and Bluffs was without a paper until the present newspaper was started 82 years ago.

The Bluffs Weekly Times was established November 9, 1889, by P. R. Nelson, who had purchased the Winchester Times October 15, 1887.

The Times was conducted by Mr. Nelson for about 7 and one-half years, being printed as an edition of The Winchester Times. For several years, the Bluffs department was under the management of E. D. Beird. A small job plant was maintained here, and Mr. Beird spent a few days here each week, gathering the local news and doing the commercial printing that came to the office. He made his trips between Bluffs and Winchester on a bicycle, which was in that day the speediest mode of travel in common use.

In May 1897, Mr. Beird became the sole owner and publisher of The Times and from that date to the present, it has been published as an exclusive Bluffs paper. The new owner purchased a new outfit of type and material, and his first issue was dated May 14, 1897, being well fitted with spicy local news and advertisements. From the start, it proved a success, so much so that the size of the paper was enlarged to a five column quarto and a cylinder press installed. Some years later it was enlarged to a six-column quarto, which required the installation of a still larger press.

NEW PUBLISHERS

September 12, 1921, Beird sold the newspaper to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reed of Pittsfield.

It was under the Reed management that the Bluffs Weekly Times became an "eight-page-all-local print" paper, a decided improvement over the four pages "patented inside."

The paper was edited by Reed until his death April 20, 1930. At that time his widow Mrs. E. L. Reed took up the editorial pen and continued as publisher until September 12, 1931, when it was taken over by H. C. Merriman of Virden and Paul H. Vannier.

That partnership continued until the following spring when Merriman returned to the automobile business and moved to Taylorville where he became Sales Manager for the Gilbert-Large Automobile agency. Mr. Vannier then became the sole owner.

The Times moved into its own building which was purchased from the Bank of Bluffs November 1, 1939.

Mr. and Mrs. Vannier operated The Times until October 1, 1962, at which time they sold the paper to Ronald H. Dragoset of Woodbridge, N. J.

On March 1, 1964, Mr. and Mrs. Dragoset sold out to the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones.

In November 1962, the paper was switched from hot metal to offset and new equipment was purchased.

In May Mr. and Mrs. Jones purchased the Ray Bettis building, built in 1963 on the site of the old Jim Dugan barber shop just south of the railroad tracks and moved The Times office into it June 1, 1964 and continue their business there.

James Hamilton Recalled Year Without a Summer

James Hamilton, when he was one of the oldest residents in the Bluffs vicinity, now deceased, said he well remembered the year 1846, which went down in history as the year without a summer. Mr. Hamilton did not believe the Springs of his times so bad when compared with that year of long ago. He furnished the Bluffs Times the following clipping from the "Blue Mound Leader," which had been printed over 40 years before and told of the cold spring of 1846 as follows:

"The year of 1846 was without a summer. The weather was so cold that ice was frozen every day in June and every month experienced frost and freezing weather. June 17 was the memorable date, as a big snow fell, to the depth of 10 inches and many people were frozen to death. The mean temperature of the summer months was 45 degrees, and the crops were failures, the weather being too cold for vegetation of any kind. July and August were colder than June, and ice an inch thick or more. On August 30, another heavy snow fell and the entire summer was as bleak and dreary as November. There was very little rain the entire season; farm work was done with heavy wraps and mittens on, and it was necessary to consume a lot of fuel for heating purposes. In September the thermometer reached 70 degrees and for a time the cold was dispelled, but for a few days only, when real winter set in again. The wind blew a gale from the north most of the time and it was fierce and cold.

One of the first corn planters was used by Bille Peak and sold at his sale. Year and make of the one above is unknown. It took two persons to operate it, one to drive, the other to pull the lever to check the kernels in the hills. The wheels were four feet apart for the corn row.

Undertaking, Embalming By McCaleb & Linkins

The first issues of The Bluffs Times advertised the stock of McCaleb and Linkins—from the cheapest hospital coffins to the finest metallic caskets. They had an elegant hearse equipage and a full line of burial robes and shrouds. "They were both affable and courteous gentlemen and as funeral instructors they had no superior in the county."

Funeral rigs changed but little during the horse and buggy era except that they became lighter in weight and more decorative.

H. D. Kilpatrick, undertaker in Bluffs for years, had his office in the McCaleb block for years. Following its destruction by fire he re-opened in the J. C. Lewis building.

S. J. Sawyers, always supplied black horses for the rig and kept the horses out of the hot summer sun so their coats would not tan or sunburn.

Mud roads often made it necessary to use four horses and often times a wagon or sled played its part in the funeral procession. The motorized hearse made its appearance here in the early 1920's.

Following H. D. Kilpatrick's death, Bluffs was without an undertaker until Lyle Bates entered the profession in 1934.

Following Mr. Bates death, Mrs. Helen Bates has taken over management of the Funeral Home. The funeral home is an up-to-date funeral home and keeps improving service.

The above engraving was used on the letterheads for early undertakers in Bluffs. The church spire in the background and the draperies around the "one way hack" added a saintly air.

The Big Fire At Bluffs

On August 7, 1914 a disastrous fire struck Bluffs, and for a time threatened to wipe out the entire town. Only a hard fought battle by the citizens, aided by the fire department of Jacksonville, succeeded in subduing the flames and stopped the progress of the fire.

The fire, which started in the McCaleb block, was supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove in the rooms above the Curtis Drug Store which was occupied by the Matthews family. Early in the progress of the fire the town authorities realized the seriousness of the situation and sent a Wabash special to Jacksonville for the fire department, who responded promptly. Meredosia citizens, upon receiving word of the terrible fire, also responded quickly, driving to the scene in a line of automobiles.

The buildings destroyed included the block owned by Clarence McCaleb, in which was located three stores, the drug store of F. C. Curtis, the Ranft Hardware and Harvest store with the Illinois Telephone office, H. D. Kilpatrick undertaking parlors and rooms occupied by the three or four families on the second floor.

Across the street from the McCaleb block the large general store of Tewksbury & Black which occupied the opera house building was a total loss. In the second story of the building the moving picture show suffered a total loss of its property. The restaurant of Ina Summers was a total loss, and the Farmer's Telephone Exchange and the building of Geo. VanGundy suffered a loss of $1,200 or $1,500.

The S. Halpin building, a frame structure in which one store room was empty and the other occupied by Black's meat market was destroyed. George J. Vannier lost his residence and barn, value probably $3,000. Two barns owned by J. C. Lewis and one barn belonging to Henry Brockhouse were also burned. The bakery of H. Corbridge suffered damage.

The fire was brought under control by the use of a Babcock fire extinguisher containing forty gallons of chemical. A temporary telephone exchange was established in the Bluffs Times office, E. D. Beird placing the facilities at the disposal of the companies.

W. J. Doyle Store

The W. J. Doyle's Store under the IOOF Lodge Hall was the gathering spot for farmer families and the place to cut a hunk of long horn cheese, get a couple crackers from the barrel and a place to spit tobacco juice into the sand box under the pot bellied stove. It was a place of honest count. "Billy" Doyle had a mixed clientele. He had the carriage trade because of honest weight and a trust-worthy counting system. He also had a round-the-stove-back-door credit for the family head out of work and no future prospects. These creditors and farmers brought in garden produce, eggs, and rabbits along with head cheese, blood sausage, spare ribs, backbone, beef organs of liver, hearts, and even hide for trading. It wasn't uncommon for 10-30 rabbits frozen to a zero-blue by nature to hang out front and sell for 10¢ each - less when the thermometer started snow to melt and the color of the fresh meat unfringed. The fellow with the five-button sweater is Dick Nortrup, brother of Louis Nortrup and father-in-law of Ruth Kilpatrick Nortrup. He worked for the Wabash Railroad and after retirement for the Sears Lumber Co.

W. J. Doyle opened his second store on what is now a restaurant on Rte. 100 south of the residence of Mrs. Minnie Baird Monte. (Her residence is the former site of the A. W. Baird store, where a grocery store supplied farmer needs and salt, shipped to Naples and hauled to Bluffs and was sold by the barrel. It, the salt, was for meat, kraut, pickle and farm cow-lick.

Across the street was the Arundel Livery Barn. Single or double team rigs or carriages with fringe on top for schedule to drummers or groups of young coming to Bluffs on passenger train No. 6 or 7 (East or West) and wanting to dance at Exeter's floating dance floor or picnic in the Chance or Oakes woods.

The Doyle Grocery took a 10-20 or even more thousand dollar credit loss heading into the depression. The store was purchased by Miss Nora Baird, daughter of the A. W. and she too took too much paper from friends too accommodating. After thousands of dollars loss the venture ended.

Dan Charles' Barber Shop

The picture of the Dan Charles barber shop. Dan Charles was a negro barber, third from the left. The citizens in the picture are: in the buggy, unknown; left, to right- Elmer Anderson, Mahlon Chapman, Dan Charles, next two unknown, another barber, Wm. Busch, and Stonewall Sawyers. This building was located at the scene of the old post office.

It is said that this was the only Negro family that ever lived in Bluffs. Their home was where Mrs. Margaret Hatfield lived, and the family was held in high esteem. Mr. Charles' funeral was said to have been one of the largest ever held in Bluffs. They had a son, Danny, who later moved to Jacksonville, Illinois.

FIRST SCHOOL -- Judge Henderson, who more than one hundred years ago, began and industriously pursued the collection of facts relative to the early history of this region, says the first school taught within the limits of this county was taught by Miss Jeanette Wheeler in a log cabin a little southeast of where Exeter now stands.

He did not state, and probably did not know, the date.

Mrs. Margaret Snow Cross Plains Three Times In The Covered Wagon

Mrs. Snow was born in Muscatine, Iowa on December 21, 1844, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, who immigrated to Oregon in 1850, at which time Mrs. Snow was six years of age and of this journey through the wild and unbroken west she retains vivid memories of the trials and hardships encountered on that journey which was made by covered wagon drawn with oxen, in company with many other wagons, with their band of sturdy pioneers seeking the far flung boundary of the frontier, with a determination to carve a home out of the wilderness--the real empire builders of the great west.

In 1859 romance entered the life of Miss Margaret Thompson and she became the bride of Joseph Sisson. They continued to reside in Oregon until 1865, when they came to New York by way of vessel, and then by rail from New York to the farthest point west which was at that time reached by rail, and located on a farm three and a half mile from Naples, known as the Sisson ridge.

They were of hardy pioneer stock and soon were seized with a longing for the west and its lure of wealth and promise of great happiness, and in 1868 they sold their holdings at Naples and returned to Oregon by covered wagon once more. This time the trip was made in about four months, and they spent the winter in Portland with her parents. Then in 1869 they made the trip across the plains again by way of covered wagon, and bought their old home place at Naples back.

Joseph Sisson died October 2, 1872, and two years later she was married to Thomas Sisson, who died on August 10, 1880.

She was again married on February 28, 1883 to Martin Snow, a Civil War veteran who died September 16, 1923 leaving her a widow at the age of 79.

Mrs. Snow was the mother of six children: Mrs. Mary Vaughn, Mr. James Sisson, Mr. George Sisson, Mrs. Ida Hamey, Mrs. Addie Jamison and Mrs. Margaret Haley, all now deceased except Mrs. Margaret Haley, who resides in Springfield, Illinois.

One daughter, Mrs. Addie Jamison was born on the trail, in a covered wagon.

Four step-children were raised in the Snow home. Mr. Sam Snow, Mr. Wm. Snow, Mrs. Ann Harvey and Mrs. Millie Bagby, also three grandchildren.

Mrs. Snow passed away in November of 1925.

THOMAS O'BRIEN

JULIA O'CONNOR O'BRIEN

Mr. O'Brien, son of John and Bridget O'Brien, was born in Stanton, Va., August 1, 1855, the family moving to Iowa when he was one years old. He moved to Versailles in 1870, and the same year he began his railroad career with the Wabash railroad. He married Julia O'Conner of Mt. Sterling in 1882, and two sons, John and Maurice, both of whom followed the Wabash railroad careers, were born to them. The elder Mr. O'Brien had fifty-four years' continuous service as an employee of the Wabash, retiring before his death. During Mr. O'Brien's long career as engineer he had many men as firemen that were promoted to engineers on the Springfield division of the Wabash: Mack Fuson (serving 44 years of continuous service); Nelson Lock, Henry Starks, Henry Klockson, William and Herman Vannier, John Kennedy, William Frohwitter, Frank Stanton, William Borum, James Bingham, Eugene Carpenter and many others. The O'Briens' were the grandparents of Mrs. Ralph (Leah) Jones and Mrs. Jean Hart Evans (deceased), and John P. (Jack) O'Brien; great-grandparents of Steven, Brien and Michael Jones; Thomas L. Hart and Mrs. Clifford (Lynn) Hoots, and great-great-grandparents of Kim and Sandy Hart and Guy, Lorrie and Kristi Hoots.

Mrs. Frank (Minnie) Reigart was born 1 year after Bluffs came into being. Aunt Minnie was a sister of the late Mrs. N. J. Moore. She was born July 23, 1872, at Naples, Ill, the oldest of Charles Keener Lee and Frances Critzer Lee's two children. Her parents were married from what was then the home of P. D. Critzer, now the Abbott Place. This united two of Naples' oldest and better known families.

Her son Richard is a retired Methodist minister at Riverside, Calif. Mrs. Reigart lives alone in an apartment at the Rose Garden Village, Riverside. She is the last known descendant of either the Keener or Critzer families.

The above picture was taken in 1925 on the Royal Oakes farm north of Bluffs, and featured a Massey-Harris Combine. The Oakes field was the first field of wheat cut by combine in the State of Illinois. Of those known in the above picture were Fred Northcutt, Royal Oakes, Herman Muns, Clarence Castle, Harold Oakes, Orville Masterson. Jesse Batley and Francis Winzelman were standing on the combine.

Another picture of the combine, the first used in Illinois in 1925: Francis "Beebe" Winzelman seated on tractor, Jesse Batley, seated on combine and Orville Masterson, standing in wagon.

A Newspaper History

by P. H. Vannier

The Bluffs Times isn't as old as the first primitive one printed in Germany in 1609 or the first in England in 1621 and it isn't as old as the first American PUBLICK OCCURRENCES, dated Sept. 25, 1690. The Bluffs Times is, however, 83 years old, and it is the only one interested in the Bluffs community and its 100 years of history making.

The more than 280 years the newspapers have chronicled everything from an essay by Benjamin Franklin as a newspaper subscriber to the New England Courant in 1722, "Silent Dogood" letter submitted anonymously to his half brother, or you could go the files on the Essex Gazette of Salem, April 25, 1775 and read about the battles of Lexington and Concord. Read about Robert Fulton's steamboat on the Hudson River in the New York American Citizen and about the trial of Aaron Burr for treason, both in column four, August 22, 1807.

The December 16, 1799 issue of The Times District of Columbia had the column rules upside down for the news of George Washington's death. Column rules had been up "full black" before when the October 31, 1965 announced the final issue of the Penn Courier because of opposition to the Stamp Act. A fellow named Paul Revere made engravings of coffins for funeral stories in 1770 for the Boston Gazette for the Boston Massacre. The same patriotic paper published the Tea Party story, Dec. 20, 1773, written by "an impartial observer" who turned out to be Samuel Adams.

History would never have known without a newspaper record that Thomas Paine said, "These are the times that try men's souls," but that brilliant exhortation was printed in the Pennsylvania Packet and read to Washington's troops before they crossed the Delaware to Christmas victory at Trenton. His plea for cattle for hungry troops at Valley Forge made the front center page of the Connecticut Courant, March 17, 1778, and that paper is known as the Hartford Courant, oldest newspaper in the States.

The Washington hand press made by Hoe & Co. advanced printing but a cylinder for the platen and a bed of type moving back and forth printed thousands of papers per hour. One operated by hand continued to operate in Milton, Ill. in the late 20's but E. D. Beird, first local publisher of The Times had a gas engine and a raft of shafting and pulleys installed by the late Johnny Green to do the work in what is now the East Civic Club Bldg.

High speed printing brought the "penny paper" to the New York Sun and it won more readers in a few years than a near dozen rivals had combined. The Baltimore Sun was another famous penny paper founded a few years later in 1837. A year later the Boston Liberator built up press when it called the murder of Elijah P. Lovejoy, another abolitionist editor at Alton, Ill., a "horrid tragedy."

In 1845 woodcuts illustrated a full page of Andrew Jackson's funeral procession in the New York Herald and the press went forward again.

Newspapers covered the Civil War and headlines were bold in the North with more than 100 correspondents in the field with the Union Army. The South's presses were short of newsprint. It was in 1863 that the web press made printing from rolls of newsprint possible and the "prayer of twenty millions" by Horace Greeley written in letter form to President Lincoln and published in the New York Tribune asked for a proclamation to free slaves immediately. That was August 20, 1862 and the proclamation was issued Sept. 22 to become effective the following Jan. 1. Horace Greeley's Tribune was a penny paper noted for influential editorials. The Cincinnati Commercial printed the full proclamation text.

Newspapers recorded the Atlantic Cable, 1866, the first transcontinental railroad and gold spike celebrated 100 years later in 1969, the telephone and phonograph and electric light in the 1870's. The Brooklyn Bridge was "first sold" in the late 80's via a hoax advertisement and Joseph Pulitzer, an immigrant who founded the St. Louis Post Dispatch, added dignity, honesty and fairness to a new era of Journalism.

Newspapers hit a new high with more than 800 in 1880. That number of dailies increased to 1400 in 10 years with weekly papers numbering more than 10,000 a few years later, and the Bluffs Times was one of them.

The increase was partially due to the advent of the line casting machine by Ottman Mergenthaler in 1886. That machine eliminated setting type, which also had to be returned to the case by hand for reuse. Ottman's machine cast a solid slug from hot molten metal over a line of type matrices which were then automatically redistributed over individual combinations to the magazine for reuse.

The use of illustrations and cartoons were on their way when the New York Morning Journal pictured the 3-ft. snow in March that caused a "Horse-Car Waterloo" in 1888 and little orphan Annie, Mutt and Jeff swelled the syndicated reader circulation following the turn of the century.

The linotypes and hot metal are fast giving way to progress in all except the largest dailies and modern offset picture plate presses are being made by the same Hoe family that made the old Washington Hand press.

The Bluffs Times readers are fortunate that it has adopted the offset process and hundreds of historical photos can be reproduced to tell the 100 year story of Bluffs.

Order an extra copy of this Centennial Issue to pass on to your children's children in years to come and they will take more pride in their history.

- Vannier History -

Since Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Vannier were publishers of The Bluffs Times for more than 30 years, and volunteered for World War II, a Vannier history might be befitting.

The records show that P. H.'s grandfather left Alsace, Lorraine, then under German rule, before draft age to avoid compulsory military service. He and a cousin landed at New Orleans broke and signed up 10 dollars a month job driving horses.

The horses turned out to be part mule teams hitched to wagons in trains hauling ammunition and war provisions through territory inhabited by belligerent Indians. On their second trip in to the Mexican border their train master traded his Irish drinking drivers for German drivers who did a little drinkin' but kept their horses well fed and their harness in good condition.

Vannier's great grandpa in Germany received word that his son Henry was killed by Indians who massacred all the drivers, drove off the horses, stole the war provisions and burned the wagons in the train to which he was registered and from which he was traded to the train returning back to New Orleans. His mule train service was an aid in securing 160 acres of land later in the Oak Dale neighborhood where he married and lived until his oldest son, George, was in the 7th grade. George H. had to quit school to help his mother raise the family pictured below.

His first schooling was where John Brown's trailer is now at the north edge of Bluffs on Rt. 100. Curtis Unger was the teacher and it was from him he learned to read, to remember and keep a mental picture of everything he saw, plus a knowledge of spelling and arithmetic that always amazed his children. The school was family supported and the teacher took ham, chicken, grist mill products, etc. in lieu of money. That school building was the center of the population area.

The North Scott area became more thickly childrenized and a second building was built where Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vortman and Mrs. Anna Lovekamp now live. The school population center changed again. Vanniers donated land for the new Oak Dale site which reverted back to the farm now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nobis when it ceased to be a school following consolidation.

Like early pioneers, George H. continued his study of Ray's Higher Arithmetic, history and the dictionary. He could add three columns of figures without a pencil and could give the answer to problems in Algebra but not by equations.

He organized the first telephone company with Henry T. Rainey, 20th Dist. Congressman and later Speaker of the House, layed out the first rural mail route out of Bluffs. Orval Masterson, father of the late Wayne, was first carrier. His was the first field of Alfalfa. He helped organize the community school district, the Farm Bureau, sold one of the first Country Life Insurance policies in Scott County, sponsored co-op livestock marketing, rural electricity, good roads, successful in locating Pikes Peak Ocean to Ocean Trail through Chapin and Bluffs. Received high recognition from Governor Len Small for aid in passing the 60 million dollar bond issue for hard roads. He passed an examination and was named County Supt. of Highways in Scott County, the only one in the State of Illinois without a high school education. Bridges across creeks at Exeter and Glasgow are evidence of his knowledge of concrete - no cracks or faults over a half century of use.

Mr. and Mrs. Vannier were the parents of eight children, three of who died in infancy. This pictures the family on the front porch of their farm home about 1910.

Railroading Differences 1888 and 1971

Railroads in Illinois started at Meredosia with a spur to Naples in the wood-burning steam train days. And-with a round house, Bluffs boomed with train crews, machinists, repairmen and other Wabash employees taking a vital place in the town's economy.

"All that was years ago" a retired railroader told us. When the last train crew out of Bluffs was called January 31, 1960, it marked the end of a golden era of employment and sizeable payroll.

In comparison of railroading at the turn of the century, and 1960, Herman Vannier, retired engineer, found interesting reading in a 23 page schedule for workers. The 1909 pay for engineers on the Pittsfield-Maysville branch was $75 per month and fireman $62.50. They got a raise of 30 cents per day for a total pay of $2.38 per day. (the pay per month in 1960 ran into four figures instead of two). The pay schedule of 1909 was based on the size of the cylinders of the engine.

The schedule of rules and working conditions in 1960 contained 178 pages. Tonnage in 1909 up the Griggsville hill was a limit of 50 cars and 650 tons.

-1924 Seniority List--The eight hour law caused a need for double crews and there were 36 train crews out of Springfield. The 1924 seniority list contained 95 engineers with 73 holding regular jobs with 133 on the fireman list.

The January 1960 list included 31 engineers on the division with 19 regular jobs-four more than the number of regular assigned engine crews working out of Bluffs in 1914.

A large number of crews were needed-take the Pittsfield-Maysville, 6 miles of track had train No. 30 east bound at 6:40 a.m. (except Sunday) in 1897, No. 32 (Daily) 8:45 a.m. No. 38 (except Sunday) 8 p.m. Those trains were 15 minutes arriving at the junction and returned to Pittsfield approximately an hour later.

The 1897 train schedule pictured the Union Station in St. Louis, largest, handsomest, and most magnificent passenger station in the world-costing $5,000,000 with Mr. Fred Harvey managing the restaurant meals served a la carte, plan, except noon lunch, for 35 cents.

Sleeping buffet cars had high-cushioned backs with electric bells to summon the porter at all hours. A full page told of arrangements with the New York Central and Hudson River and West Shore R.R. for round trip to Niagara Falls.

The total mileage of the Wabash line was 2,124.6 miles as of May 1, 1897 and pictured in two colors on the cover was Wabash Engine 144 with the old fashioned rod and pin coupler. Pintsch gas was used to cook, light and provide steam heat on the cafe and buffet cars.

Newspaper and magazine publishers and agencies were well advertised in the time table and News "Butches" sold reading material, candy bars, etc. Sleeping car rates between St. Louis and Chicago were $2.00; drawing room $7.00; Chicago and New York $5 and $18; St. Louis and Los Angeles $14.50 and $36.

Fausts famous Oyster House in St. Louis also advertised clam, fish, lobster, terrapin together with foreign delicacies.

Special rates could be had by Stock men and theatrical people at the Atlantic Hotel in Chicago then at Sherman and VanBuren Streets $2.00 per day. The Arlington was the only hotel on the United States Reservation at Hot Springs, Ark. Steel bridges connected each floor with the mountain in the rear for easy wheeling of invalids to the mountain and for escape in case of fire.

The 1888 train schedules had three trains east thru Bluffs arriving 3:19 a.m., and 7:08 a.m. and 6:55 p.m. Going west trains arrived at 12:10 a.m. 7:15 p.m. and 8:18 a.m. There were two passenger trains thru Meredosia from Quincy to Keokuk to Bluffs 6:53 a.m. and 6:36 p.m. going east and 7:39 p.m. and 8:40 a.m. going west.

-Coupon Stations-Coupon stations were listed in 1897 along with population-Bluffs in 1897-421; Barry-1,354; Chapin-500, Chicago-1,099,850, Decatur 16,841, Jacksonville 12, 935, and Springfield 24,963.

The scheduled time from Decatur to Hannibal was 4 hours 50 minutes in 1888 and there was little difference in 1897. The passenger trains were even numbered going east thru Bluffs-No. 6 daily, No. 44 daily except Sunday and No. 42 daily. Going west, No. 1, No. 5 and No. 3 daily except No. 5. The numbers changed somewhat for the '97 timetable but were even or odds by direction.

The Wabash ran 9 suburban trains from St. Charles into St. Louis Union Station-six in the a.m. and 4 in the afternoon-six daily, 3 daily except Sunday and one Sunday morning only. An equal number also served St. Charles via Ferguson to Olive Street, St. Louis. The time for the run averaged 40 and 50 minutes for the 23.3 miles to Union Station and about the same for the 22.5 miles to Olive St.

In 1888 the Wabash agent at Chapin was E.L. Riggs; Bluffs-H. C. Finney; Meredosia, M.F. Anderson; Naples-John Quinlan; Neelys, F. L. Winesburg; Valley City-D.L. McCartney, Versailles-E.B. Owen; Markham-G.W. Sargeant, Griggsville-C.C. Wilson; Baylis-T.F. McPherson.

Bluffs and Jacksonville were the only stations in this area with day and night telegraph and coupon service.

This photograph reproduced with the following article, page 78, Railway Age, August 14, 1948:

ILLINOIS' FIRST LOCOMOTIVE REPRESENTED AT FAIR—On exhibition by the Wabash at the Railroad Fair in Chicago is a replica of the "Rogers", first steam locomotive to operate in Illinois and the West. The locomotive was the fourth built by Rogers, Ketchum & Grosvenor, of Paterson, N.J., and was listed on the books of that company as "Experiment" when completed on June 12, 1838. After a long sea and river voyage via New Orleans, the machine reached Meredosia, on the Illinois River, on November 8, 1838, and was placed in service two days later on the Northern Cross (now Wabash). This was only a little more than eight years after common carrier railroading started in the United States.

Actual dimensions of the "Rogers" are not known, but it is believed to have been somewhat smaller than Rogers' first product, the famous "Sandusky". Historians estimate it weighed about seven tons.

(First four locomotives of Rogers, Ketchum & Grosvenor of similar design except for smaller dimensions of the "Rogers".

BLUFFS WATER & SEWER DEPARTMENTS

--Story by John Brown, Water Superintendent---

Bluffs is located in the northwest corner of Scott Co. It is approximately fifty miles west of Springfield, Ill., the Capitol of Illinois and is served by Illinois Route 100 and the Norfolk and Western Railroad. The first settlers arrived in 1829 when the town was named Deerfield and then changed to Bluffs, and became incorporated in 1871.
1936---1953

The Village operates its own water works and was completed by the P.W.A. November 20, 1936 at a total cost of nearly $60,000. The well No. 1, is 56 feet deep (which is not in use), and pumping at the rate of 100 gallon per minute. Water rates were minimum charge of $1.50, first 2,000 gallons or less, then .60¢ per thousand with the rates decreasing with the more used. Starting with less than 100 service taps the number of users has grown by 1939 to 160 connections. The tapping fee cost $1.50. Hugh Moore was Water Superintendent since the system was placed in operation.

Existing equipment consists of dry feeders for feeding lime and alum, a mixing basin, settling tank, and recarbonation equipment. In 1942 No. 2 well was installed which is still used only as a standby. The present capacity is approximately 50 gallons per minute with the depth of 61 feet.

1953--1956

The years meters were installed of approximately 280 and the well No. 2 was down with a broken shaft. And a new chlorinator was installed, feeding a hypo-chlorite solution into the water. The Plant itself was in need of repair.

1956--1965

By 1958 well No. 3 was constructed, located northeast of the building and is used almost exclusively. And was designed to deliver 150 gallons per minute with a depth of 59 feet.

In 1963 was the big turning point in the water treatment plant improvement. The rebuilding of the plant, is capable of removing the iron and manganese from the raw water, operating at the rate of 150 gallons per minute.

The finished water having an iron and manganese content of 0.2 parts per million. And water carrying a chlorine residual of at least 0.2 parts per million as it leaves the plant. The plant was operated by Harold Baird at this time.

1965--1971

Through this time more homes were built. The addition of ValleyView was added to the water system. Outside meters were put on for better reading, valves were replaced. Flouridation was installed June 11, 1968, in order to protect the dental health of the children. There are presently 331 water customers, which use approximately 75,000 gallons per day, pumping at the rate of 150 gallon per minute. Water rates were raised, December 1, 1970 to $3.00 for the first 2,500 gallons per month with the next 7,500 at .50¢ per 1000 gallons and the rate decreasing with the more used.

The cost for the installing was $23,491.18. The water rates were raised to $2.25 for the first 2,500 gallons per month or less with the next 7,500 gallons at 50¢ per 1000 and with the rates decreasing with the more used.

At the present time the Plant consists of two drilled wells, one of which is No.3 well which is 59 feet deep and the other No. 2 well, which is 61 feet deep. The Village of Bluffs has two storage tanks. One at the Plant which holds approximately 25,000 gallons, and one located on North Street, east of State Route 100., which has a capacity of 80,000 gallons. The wells deliver water through a forced air, aerator, into the storage tank at the plant. Then its picked up by a HS-Service pump, taking the water through the plant for processing and to the water tower and on to the consumer.

Pumping increased from 1967 to 1971 to 5.3 million gallons. Averaging 75,000 gallons per day. The pipe lines running through the village pipe are mostly 4 inches and 6 inch mains, and approximately 7 miles of pipe. John Brown in Bluffs Water Superintendent at the present time.

The Village of Bluffs Sanitary Sewer System and Sewage Treatment Plant was completed by the W.P.A. by 1940, with approximately 5.6 miles of pipe. There are presently 317 connected onto the system. Sewer mains running through the Village are mostly 8 inch versified clay tile, with sixty manholes.

The treatment was designed for a population of 1,000 to 75,000 gallons per day, with the plant average flow per day approximately 40,000 gallons (dry weather flow).

The plant was designed as a trickling filter plant, consisting primarily of a preliminary, primary and secondary treatment. Preliminary treatment consists of two submerged centrifugal sewage pumping units and bar screen; primary is settling tank of the Imhoff type, which settles out the heavy material; secondary treatment is the last stage of treatment, where sewage runs through the trickling filter for aeration and then to the final settling tank.

The pumps have a capacity of 140 gallon per minute.

BOND ISSUE PASSED IN BLUFFS--A Bond Issue for the improvement of the Bluffs Village Sewer facilities passed Tuesday, November 17, 1970 by a vote of 77 for and 19 against.

The bond issue, totaling $94,000, was for payment of the cost of improving the village sewer system, including improvements to the sewerage treatment plant.

The bonds were to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 7 percent.

The bond issue was passed primarily to be used at water plant located west of Bluffs in the purchase of six acres of land from Glenn Head of Springfield, to build a lagoon, and completely renovate the water works. Plans are to rehabilitate and enlarge the existing sewage treatment facility to increase its capacity and enable the same to meet the needs of the Village, such improvements consisted of the construction and installation of waste stabilization lagoons, construction and installation of a new lift station, repairing and enlarging sludge drying beds, constructing and equipping a chlorination treatment plant, rehabilitating and making additions to the existing sewage treatment plant and included all piping, equipment, valves, controls, wiring and appurtenances incident thereto.

Work was to begin in the late summer of 1971.

The North Scott Fire Protection District is made up of volunteer firemen. The Fire Chief during our Centennial year is John Brown, pictured above.

According to the wedding certificate, still legible, Bernard Rudolph Müller and Anna Mary Adeline Nortrup were married April 14, 1865, the day Abraham Lincoln was shot. (Legend has it that the marriage was on ship-board as they arrived from Germany, but research has not yet proved or disproved this.)

Bernard Mueller and his wife settled on a farm about two miles from Bluffs a century ago which is still owned and operated by his granddaughter, Henrietta Schweer, the daughter of Annie Marie Müller.

Müller Family Well Represented in Bluffs History

There are now six generations of Muellers beginning with Bernard Rudolph Mueller who brought his bride to a farm so near to Bluffs a century ago. There were 12 children, two of whom died in infancy. Only one child is living (May 31, 1971) --Edith Mueller Seeman. (Mrs. Clarence). She has lived within the city of Bluffs for more than fifty years. Many other descendants still live in Bluffs or nearby. Others may be found from California to New Jersey. Allied last names are Berry, Busch, Chapman, Coltrin, Edwards, Filer, Fiene, Graushrick, Grausman, Fowler, Fargo, Hutton, Havlin, Hyler, Kunkel, Krause, Kuhn, Kahle, Loyd, Loesch, Langford, Nepel, Goodal, Paddock, Sappington, Spurbeck, Roe, Thomas, McCormick, Morris, Sonntag, Sweetman, Wilson, Edwards.

Since the turn of the century, the town of Bluffs has always had one or more of his descendants in business--poultry, egg, restaurant ice, coal, general store, real estate, feed and motor cycle and machinery. Many others have chosen teaching, farming and railroading (when it was at its peak). A large percent have college training. As a family, most members, have been and still are consistant Lutherans, serving in church offices and in Bible School.

Rudolph Mueller's name appears among the charter voting members of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church at Neelyville in 1870. William Mueller was on the building committee and was the first Church secretary of St. John's Lutheran Church in Bluffs in 1913.

The members of the family have been loyal citizens of USA, serving and sacrificing for their country

The Bluffs Centennial is thus richer, in business, professions, in civil and religious life for the contributions of such families as the Muellers.

Willing Workers Aid Society of Trinity Lutheran Church

In July 1917 a Ladies Aid Society was organized which chose as its name "The Willing Workers Aid Society".

The members meet regularly twice a month and spend much time in quilting and serving dinners to local organizations. Lunch has been provided at many 'Sales' throughout the community.

Since its existence this Society has donated generously to benevolent and charitable purposes and provided for some of the interior furnishing of the church. It has given generously to the Building Fund of the new church.

At the present time it numbers 42 members. We have one charter member and 10 honorary members.

The Officers during 1971 are: Mrs. Aldo Engelbrecht, President, Mrs. Carl Pahlman, Vice-President; Mrs. Paul Ellerman, Secretary and Mrs. Henry Pahlman, Treasurer.

The Organization became affiliated with the Lutheran Women's Missionary League or in short L.W.M.L. in 1941. The L.W.M.L. edits a Quarterly Publication which includes three lessons. These topics are used, studied and discussed at the Business Meeting, the first Thursday of every month. The Mite Box Service of which Mrs. Clarence Pahlman is chairman is also conducted quarterly. This money flows into the Treasury of the L.W.M.L. and is used for projects, needing assistance, at Home or Abroad. Just last year Bethesda Lutheran Home received a check for $7,777.50.

FRED D. BROCKHOUSE GARAGE AND MACHINE SHOP

In 1912 or 1913 Fred D. Brockhouse sold his light plant to the CIPS Co. He then started a garage and machine shop in the building next door to the light plant. These buildings were located next to the bridge where Cockerill's Garage was located, now leased by Illinois Valley as a machine shop.

During the time Mr. Brockhouse operated the garage, he had the first car dealership in Bluffs. The cars were "Regal" make, and had a right hand drive. They were made in Detroit with Mrs. Brockhouse's cars coming from St. Louis and were shipped by boat to Naples. He ran the garage until the WW I started. He then sold the business.

WHICH WHEAT FOR ILLINOIS?

So read the headlines in August, 1951!

Around the turn of the century, a young Scott county farmer named Royal Oakes began raising wheat as his father and grandfather had done before him. Some years, his yields were disappointingly low. The wheat froze out. This set Oakes to thinking that perhaps there were better varieties of the crop that might put up a stiffer fight against winter killing.

He decided to test them himself. He sowed the new seed in 1907 and thus were born the Oakes wheat test plots. They are now famous for the fact that in each of the past 64 years a part of the Oakes farm has been devoted to testing different varieties of the grain. These years have meant for him and his sons, a long search to find the best types for his home state. Farmers came each year from miles and miles around to watch the tests with a careful eye for information about yield, weight, moisture content, quality of straw, height, standing ability and resistance to disease.

Oakes, a charter member of his county Farm Bureau, ran his own test plots for 23 years. Then, in 1930, University of Illinois crop scientists asked him to test some varieties for them to find out what their milling qualities might be. He cooperated with the university up until the time of his death in 1967, and his son, Harold, has carried on the Oakes tradition in his place.

On the next page, is the front cover of the IAA RECORD, a Farm Bureau magazine, published in August, 1951, which featured Mr. Oakes on it's cover. with story inside.

Mr. Oakes, 86, passed away at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, May 30, 1967 at Passavant Hospital in Jacksonville, Illinois, where he had been a patient many times prior to his death.

Mr. Oakes was born in Bluffs October 24, 1881, the son of Henry and Emaline Richardson Oakes. He married Miss Margaret Payne October 5, 1913. She died in 1969. Surviving are three sons, Harold of Bluffs, Charles of Equador, and James of St. Louis, and these grandchildren: John and Steven Oakes, Mrs. Frances Goetze, Mrs. Sandra Coon, Jacqueline and Alfred Oakes, and these great-grandchildren, Melissa and Dicky Coon and Rae-ann and Rodney Goetze. One sister, Mrs. Glenn Head of Springfield also survives.

He was preceded in death by one son, Henry Warren and two sisters and a brother.

He was a member of the Scott County Farm Bureau and served on the Board of Directors at the Bank of Bluffs. He was active in the Bluffs Methodist Church.

Mr. Oakes, in his past career, besides being a very successful and respected farmer in the Bluffs community, has been quite active with the College of Agriculture in the Department of Agronomy at the University of Illinois, and has raised a great many test plots of grain and nut trees during his lifetime.

Private Services were held at the Oakes home with Rev. M. D. Goldsborough officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery, Bluffs.

Besides his activities with the College of Agriculture in the Department of Agronomy at the University of Illinois, he was a very successful and respected farmer in our community, and in later life also gained fame for experiments with nut trees.

It is indeed a great privilege to list Mr. Oakes in our Centennial Magazine. He was a fine man!

STATE OF ILLINOIS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

I am delighted to have this opportunity of extending my hearty congratulations to Bluffs, its officers and friends, and to every resident.

Representing so much of what is the bedrock of America and our state, Bluffs should look forward with confidence to the second century of thrift, industry, and good citizenship for its families and children.

Dear Friends: My sincere congratulations on your 100th birthday.

It has been my privilege to visit Bluffs on many occasions, one time to speak at your high school commencement and another time to speak to a civic meeting, and one time to speak to a Methodist's men's group.

I have also visited there on other occasions.

I've always liked your community and congratulate you on this milestone in its history.

I hope the future of your community will be a bright one and if I can ever be of assistance, please let me know.

Dear Friends:

With heartiest congratulations I salute the Bluffs community on the occasion of the Centennial Celebration.

All my life I have known of Bluffs. First, during my boyhood days in nearby Jacksonville, then later as a businessman, newspaper publisher, in Pittsfield, and finally, as the Representative in Congress for this fine community.

I congratulate the citizens of the community especially on their good fortune to live in a fine rural area such as Bluffs where there is a bit of elbow-room, plenty of fresh air and friendly, helpful neighbors.

May the leaders of tomorrow be as farsighted as those of the past and present so that future generations may also enjoy the blessings of rural community living.

Dear Friends:

It is a real pleasure to add my congratulations to the many others you have received on the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Village of Bluffs.

I am sure the observances you have planned for this year, climaxing with your Centennial Celebration on July 10 and 11, will be interesting and informative, and it is most appropriate that you mark this occasion in a special manner.

In these days when everything seems to move at jet speed, it is well that we pause and look back to a time when life's pace was less hectic and recognize that the towns and villages then being established are really the foundation stones on which the development and progress of our State still rests. We will always need that solid foundation to meet the challenges of today and tomorrow.

Again, my congratulations, and all best wishes for the next one hundred years.

Sincerely,
/s/ John W. Lewis

Dear Friends:

My sincere congratulations to all the citizens of Bluffs on your July 10, 1971 Centennial celebration.

The proud history of Bluffs is a bright spot in the colorful story of Illinois and its growth and progress. It is fine communities such as yours that makes Illinois a great state. You can look back with pride upon your heritage and traditions and look with equal pride toward your progress and accomplishments. Your fine library is an example of progress made in your community, just to cite one example.

May I commend all of you who have helped to build your community into the fine place that it is to rear a family and enjoy life.

On this very special occasion, I want to extend my very best wishes for a successful event, and my hopes for continued growth and success go with your community for yourselves and for generations yet to come.

Dear Citizens of Bluffs,

Congratulations to the citizens of Bluffs on the 100th anniversary of your village.

More than one-half of the 1,250 municipalities in Illinois have fewer than 1,000 population. Villages like yours are the backbone of our Great State.

For 100 years the village government has served the people of Bluffs. You have your own library, your own water and sewer system and your municipal facilities for recreation. Like municipalities everywhere you are solving the problem of matching services to revenue.

A world of luck to you as you begin the second 100 years of your existence as a village.

Sincerely,

The Citizens of Bluffs: The City of Winchester extends to you its most hearty congratulations. Citizens of Bluffs, Illinois: It gives me great pleasure to write this congratulatory letter to the citizens of Bluffs. In the past years I have had many friends and relatives in Bluffs.

Bluffs and Meredosia are drawn close together by the geographical location, and have had good relationships over the past years. In many ways our villages are alike. Small in size, much great history and many historical events as we look back, and many wonderful people.

We have always been great rivals in sports, but friendly toward each other community wise. Since I have been Mayor of Meredosia I have found the people of Bluffs always ready to cooperate. I have called on your Mayor for help and always got it; our water and police departments have worked together when necessary. Your library board has cooperated in getting our library started, and in recent years our schools are bound closer together by having combined building and trades classes. Our churches and lodges have been very close and co-operative. We cannot leave out the fact that our weekly newspaper is printed in Bluffs and has been for many years.

The people of Meredosia will be interested in the events to take place in Bluffs this year. And I am sure the people of Meredosia are with me when I say congratulations on your first 100 years, and we hope Bluffs will continue to prosper and grow for many, many years to come, and that in the years ahead our two communities may grow even closer together.

May you have a wonderful centennial celebration.

Congratulations to an outstanding village on its one-hundredth birthday! It is with pride that the Office of Educational Service Region, Scott County, pays tribute to the many contributions made by the members of the community, especially in educational matters.

The quality of education offered to the children of Bluffs today represents a drastic change from that of one hundred years ago. This development is due in no small part to the interested citizens who have been alert to the needs of their area.
